

POINCARÉ GETS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

WON'T PERMIT AVIATION TO DROP BEHIND

Importance of Good Air Program Will Be Kept Before Public
CAL WILL HEAR FORD
Government Will Spend as Much for Appropriation as It Can

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926, By Post Pub. Co.
Paul Smith's N. Y. —President Coolidge does not intend to permit the importance of the aviation program to dwindle in the public eye just because there is at the moment no Mitchell agitation to emphasize its needs.

The president went over the new legislation not only with the secretary of war, who was here recently, but with the secretary of the navy, who spent the weekend at White Pine camp.

The big problem is just how much of the money that has been authorized shall be spent in the forthcoming year. It's all very well for congress to approve the expenditure but airplane factories do not spring up overnight and the needs of the government for special types do not always permit existing companies to lay aside their plans and operations to do experimental work for the government.

The question of fitting the government's requirements to commercial production is one that will have to be solved with the leaders of the aircraft industry.

WILL MEET FORD
One of them—Edsel Ford—will be here this week to talk over many things with the president, among them the development of commercial aviation. For as the government expands its aviation forces there can be encouragement given to commercial aviation which in turn will redound to the government's advantage in the nation's additional facilities for the continuous manufacture of planes.

Although the new law specifically charges the three assistant secretaries with the duty of administering the regulations that will be drawn up, the chief responsibility will remain with the secretaries of war and navy and of course with the president himself.

President Coolidge feels that this is the time for his administration to show the country that it has not lost sight of the points raised when the Mitchell controversy was at its height and when the investigating commission headed by Dwight V. Morrow was having testimony from all inside.

UP TO GOVERNMENT
One of the principal points made in defense of the administration at that time was that the government had been spending about all that the airplane factories could absorb. Increased appropriations were made by the last congress and the government now must convince the aircraft industry that it means business and continued interest in the building program or else it will not be worth while to construct additional plants or take on other responsibilities.

The aircraft industry is somewhat in the same condition that it was during the war—namely, not enough orders for the commercial use of airplanes to warrant the operation of large plants. The government virtually subsidized the airplane industry at the time and what amounted to the same thing now will have to be done by the placing of sufficient orders to put airplane production on a sound foundation. Incidentally, of course, commercial aviation will benefit.

If the main costs of airplane manufacture can be taken care of by government orders, the public may look for lower production costs for commercial use than heretofore, together with interesting experiments in the development of freight as well as passenger craft. Edsel Ford is one of the pioneers in the field carrying business and there are other captains of industry who stand ready to go ahead with large plans for a commercial aviation once the airplane manufacturing end is put on a firm basis by the federal government and assurance given of progressive development both of new types and reasonable quantities.

RUSSIAN SMASHES
STATUE IN FRANCE

Paris—(AP)—A Russian named Garmenko, armed with a hammer, Tuesday smashed the statue in the Place des Etats Unis, erected to the memory of the American soldiers who volunteered with the French forces in 1914. The statue represented an American and a Frenchman clasping hands. Garmenko was arrested.

COUNCIL DEFEATS LANGSTADT DEAL

OUSTS CHIEF

Mayor S. W. Swarts (above) of Canton, O., has suspended Chief of Police S. A. Lengel for 30 days, charging inefficiency and alleging that he was too familiar with characters of the underworld. The suspension came as a move in the effort to clear up the murder of Don R. Mellet, publisher of the Canton Daily News.

MA FERGUSON, DEFEATED, TO QUIT IN FALL

Political Power of Fergusons Is Practically Ended, Vote Indicates

Austin, Texas—(AP)—Don Moody, youthful titan haired attorney general, has forced the Fergusons of Texas into the first phase of a political eclipse after several years in which they dominated the lone star state Democratic politics.

Moody's vote in Saturday's primary coupled with an announcement Monday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson that she will resign from office probably by Nov. 1, virtually assures his ascendancy to the governor's chair next January.

With primary returns nearing completion, Moody lacked a few votes of having a majority in the five cornered Democratic gubernatorial nomination race but led Governor Ferguson by more than 110,000 votes. Lynch Davidson, third ranking candidate who, like Moody, based his campaign on "anti-Fergusonism," received enough votes to cause Mrs. Ferguson to decide she did not care to continue her campaign for reelection.

Governor Ferguson's resignation will conform to an informal agreement she had with Moody that she would retire from the race if he should lead her by one vote and that he should withdraw if she led by 25,000 votes. Her decision to resign also virtually removed further interest in the election returns as a run-off primary will not be necessary. Texas law provides that unless a candidate receives 51 per cent of the votes cast a second primary must be held.

Simultaneously with the announcement of her resignation Governor Ferguson called a special session of the legislature for Sept. 13 to consider validation of nearly $100,000,000 United States Supreme court. She also said she wished to give the legislature an opportunity to investigate any department of the state government it might wish.

Moody, who is 33 years old, is one of the youngest men to take the Texas Democratic leadership.

Moody's Republican opponent in the November election will be Colonel H. H. Haines of Houston.

All of the 17 Democratic representatives to congress were renominated, as was Harry M. Wurzbach, Texas, only Republican congressman.

PERHAPS SO WINS
FURLONG HANDICAP

Goodwood Park, England—(AP)—Perhaps So, by Hapsburg out of Hubert and owned by Dowager Lady Nuburnholme, won the steward's cup, a six furlong handicap, here Tuesday. The race was the feature of the opening day of the "Glorious Goodwood" meet, with King George and other members of the royal family in attendance.

STARTS MOVE FOR LARGER CITY OFFICES

Appoint Committee to Suggest Site for New Library

Purchase of the Langstadt-Meyer Co. building at 213-17 E. Washington-st. by the city probably will not materialize, it was indicated Monday evening at an informal meeting of the common council. A ballot showed seven aldermen opposed to the deal and three in favor of it. Two ballots were taken, five aldermen voting each way the first time. Alderman Fiedler and Smith were absent.

Monday night's gathering grew out of the regular meeting last Wednesday evening when Alderman Mark Catlin introduced a resolution proposing purchase of the Washington-st. property. The council did not care to act on the resolution at that time, as a consideration of approximately $80,000 was involved. The informal meeting was called to give the matter thorough study and determine the council's attitude. A formal vote no doubt will be taken at the next regular meeting a week from Wednesday night.

Relief of congestion in the city hall by moving either the public library or the city offices out of the building was pointed to as work with the library regarding disposal of the city hall and to learn what sites would be available for a new city building.

Retention of the city hall for city offices and construction of a new building for the library appears to be favored by the council, although no formal action has been taken on this plan. It is believed, also, would meet with the approval of the city board, which has been agitating for larger quarters for the library for some time.

KILLS OFF DEAL
The informal opinion expressed by the council on the Langstadt-Meyer project apparently will bring to an end a subject which has been under consideration for more than a year. The building was being considered as a site for the fire and police departments and one or two other city departments.

CHARGE ROOMER SHOT LANDLADY

Accused Is Bound Over to Circuit Court for Trial at Eau Claire

Eau Claire—(AP)—After a preliminary hearing in municipal court here on a charge of attempted murder of Mrs. Bertha McFadden, 46, a widow, and her son, George, 26, last June, George A. Vest, was bound over to circuit court for trial Monday afternoon. Vest pleaded not guilty when arraigned.

Vest, a roomer at the home of Mrs. McFadden, shot her during a fit of jealous rage, and then took a shot at her son, George, who had run into the room on hearing the shot and his mother screams. Mrs. McFadden has been hovering between life and death since the shooting, the bullet passing through her body just above the heart, and arrangement of the prisoner has been postponed repeatedly awaiting the outcome of her wound. Although still confined to a hospital she is now out of danger.

George, the son, testified he was sleeping in his room on the afternoon of June 4, when he heard a shot in the next room and then his mother screams. He dashed into the room and found Vest holding a revolver. As he dashed across the room Vest fired at him but missed. McFadden wrested the weapon away from him and with the help of neighbors overpowered him. Young McFadden said his mother had told him and Vest were to be married June 10. After the shooting she told him she was afraid Vest would shoot both her and him (McFadden) if she did not marry him.

COOK-CO JAILER DISCHARGED FOR LIQUOR DEALING

Chicago—(AP)—The assistant jailer of the Cook-co prison has been discharged and three guards are out of uniform as a result of official inquiry into conditions at the jail which enabled prisoners to become drunk in their cells and engage in free for all on "murderer's row."

Judge McGorty ordered the jailer suspended after listening to Earl Moore, former guard, whose appearance in court ten days ago while intoxicated with a prisoner in similar condition directly induced the investigation. Sheriff Hoffman, summarily discharged the three guards.

One of the dismissed guards was John Bresnahan, who left 68 prisoners into the exercise cage on "murderer's row" Sunday afternoon to watch Martin Durkin, sheik killer, and another inmate settle an affair of honor.

KEEP SECRET RESULTS OF RUM PARLEY

Kellogg Refuses to Publish Text of Agreement at Present Time

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The rum smuggling agreement reached between General Lincoln C. Andrews and the British government is to be kept secret for the present.

Secretary Kellogg said Tuesday that "for obvious reasons" it was not desirable to publish the text of the agreement until it had been put into effect.

He did not further explain the decision against publishing the conclusions reached by the London conference but made public instead a review of the negotiations, cast in the form of general items.

The review was identical with the statement made to the British parliament Tuesday by a spokesman for the British government. It said the discussion was of a "very frank nature" and was directed largely at infirmary of the law.

"There is no question, whatever," the statement said "of interfering with legitimate trade."

It was added that it was the purpose to pool "information" on the question so that each government will know what the other is doing "and can render any proper and requisite assistance to the other."

"With this object in view," the statement concluded "the officials have made definite suggestions of an administrative nature and these are now being considered by the two governments. For obvious reasons it is not desirable that the text of these suggestions should be published until they have been fully considered and have become effective."

MALT OUTPUT SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN 1925

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Manufacturers of malt had an output valued at $24,053,000 in 1925, an increase the commerce department announced Friday of 46.4 per cent over the $16,431,000 production in 1923, when the last census was taken.

Of the total, $21,767,000 as contributed by 22,038,000 bushels of malt and $2,286,000 by other products.

The number of establishments remained the same as last year at 22, with nine located in Wisconsin, four in New York and the remainder in Illinois, Minnesota, California and Iowa.

AIMEE WON'T HAVE FINGERPRINTS TAKEN

Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—Attorneys for Alvin Karpis, McPherson, announced Tuesday that they would not permit her finger prints to be taken to compare with those found in a Carmel, Calif. cottage where it is asserted she spent some time after being supposedly drowned. They also said they would refuse to supply samples of her handwriting to compare with chirography found in the cottage.

DIRECT QUIZ ON DONATIONS OF M'KINLEY

Senate Campaign Committee Seeks Knowledge on Expenditures

Chicago—(AP)—Pressing for more information about expenditures on behalf of Senator William B. McKinley in the Illinois primary, the senate campaign funds committee sought to develop the facts about donations made by the senator to churches, schools, and colleges.

Chester A. Willoughby, secretary to the senator who was defeated for the Republican senatorial nomination by Frank L. Smith, said such donations were made, but denied that those this year exceeded those for the preceding year or the year before that.

"The senator made general donations for which he allowed so much a year," Willoughby said.

"Do you know of a donation to a colored institution in Chicago during the campaign?" Chairman Reed asked.

"I don't know."

DOESN'T KNOW AMOUNTS
The witness said he knew the senator had sent a donation to Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, but did not know the amount.

"Do you know of any donation being made to Lincoln University in Kentucky?" Reed asked. "I think he did," said Willoughby.

"Fifty thousand dollars, wasn't it?" "I don't know the amount."

"Isn't it a fact that Chancellor Hill of that university came here to make speeches and that the donation was made to his school?" Reed asked.

Willoughby said he knew of no agreement, but that Hill did come to Illinois to speak.

Senator Reed read a letter dated March 24, 1926, from Mrs. Mary Foulke Morrison to club presidents in the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, with which she was connected. It urged clubs to hold world court programs.

This Senator Reed attempted to link with McKinley's campaign and the senator's world court stand. Willoughby said he believed Mrs. Morrison was a member of the McKinley Women's organization.

"That was the women's division to which you were paying large sums to sustain?"

"Yes sir."

DIXON MADE SPEECHES
Replying to Reed, Willoughby said John Frank Dixon of Springfield, Ill., made a large number of speeches in the state.

"What was he paid?" Reed asked. "I don't know. If any one does it would be Mr. Green." The reference was to Hiram L. Green, McKinley's personal attorney who has been summoned as a witness.

"How many paid speakers were there in this campaign?" Reed pursued. "I don't know that there were any paid speakers. I thought they volunteered their services."

As Willoughby was excused Senator Reed announced that Samuel Insull, Chicago public utilities executive, would be given until Thursday to determine whether he will say if he contributed any money to the Crowe-Barrett faction of Cook-co which supported Col. Smith.

The chairman said Insull's counsel had asked for additional time.

SUBPENA WITNESSES
Chicago—(AP)—Subpenas for six additional witnesses in the Illinois primary inquiry were issued before the senate campaign funds committee assembled Tuesday. These summoned were:

James Simpson of Chicago, president of Marshall Field and company.

Andrew Russell of Jacksonville, Ill., former state official, and a manager for Senator McKinley.

Morris Eller, a Crowe-Barrett leader in the 20th ward of Chicago.

Lewis Echan of Chicago, who, Willoughby testified, spent $17,000 in 17 wards on behalf of McKinley.

DID SHE KISS GRANGE?

This is Mrs. Charles A. Taylor of Los Angeles, whose husband has sued her for divorce, charging, among other things, that she perched in the lap of Red Grange and kissed him. Taylor added that he, blamed Grange not at all, as the famous football star didn't have a chance to dodge. Mrs. Taylor denies the charges.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS SENT TO JAIL

Runge Tells Court He Is Unable to Pay Fine of $50

Because he declared himself unable to pay a fine of $50 and costs, amounting to a little over $78, Charles Runge, town of Hortonia farmer, will serve three months in Outagamie-co jail.

Runge pleaded guilty Tuesday morning in municipal court to the charge of driving an automobile while he was intoxicated.

County Judge Fred V. Heinemann, acting for Municipal Judge Theodore

Berg who is away on a vacation, imposed a fine of $50 and costs with an alternative of three months in jail, and denied Runge the right to drive an automobile during the next six months. Runge stated in court that he has no money to pay the fine and costs, and in consequence will serve the jail sentence unless the fine is paid.

Runge was arrested July 5 by a county motorcycle officer on highway 76. On his first appearance in court he pleaded not guilty to the charge. Upon his release from Outagamie-co jail, he will be compelled to face the court a second time for failure to pay alimony to his divorced wife, Gertrude Runge.

Runge pleaded guilty earlier this month to the failure to pay alimony charge, but Judge Heinemann held the matter in abeyance until Runge's release from jail, or until the fine and costs on the other charge have been paid. At the time of the divorce decree, which was granted early in 1925, he was ordered to pay $15 a month alimony to Mrs. Runge. According to the complaint signed by her, $40 alimony is past due.

BALLOT SHOWS 387 IN FAVOR OF MINISTRY

Declaration of Policy Is Presented to Chamber of Deputies

INTEND TO SAVE FRANC
Will Increase Indirect Taxation and Attempt to End Crisis

BULLETIN

Paris—(AP)—Premier Poincaré's new government was given a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies Tuesday afternoon.

The vote, which came after the reading of the ministerial declaration of policy, was posed on the question of adjourning all interpellations until the financial bill had been discussed and passed. The premier asked that this be done, and made the matter one of confidence in the government.

The vote was 387 for the government and 139 against.

The chamber gave M. Poincaré his second victory by voting the urgency of the financial bill 413 to 31.

Paris—(AP)—The new Poincaré ministry presented its declaration of policy to the Chamber of Deputies Tuesday afternoon, with indications pointing to a governmental majority when the vote was taken.

The declaration began with the affirmation that the ministry had been formed in a spirit of "national reconciliation," with the object of saving the franc.

"We are profoundly convinced that it is possible to improve the conditions of French finances rapidly, and raise the value of the national currency," the declaration said.

"In order to avert forever fresh dangers of inflation, we propose to vote the indispensable supplementary receipts and make important economies."

Indirect taxation is to be increased the declaration said, but at the same time direct taxation will be imposed upon acquired wealth, to form a repayment fund for the national defense bond.

An appeal was made to "clean sighted patriotism," to "shorten the discussion by voluntary discipline."

In its first references to the interpellations, the declaration said:

"The nations which are our creditors, and whom France has the firm will to pay within every measure of her capacity, have as great an interest as ourselves that we should, before everything, put an end to the monetary crisis. This crisis is due to multiple causes, but it is in no way impossible to calm its violence and to annihilate its dangerous effects."

Premier Poincaré asked the chamber to adjourn all interpellations until the financial bill was discussed and passed. He made the question one of confidence. A vote on it was expected shortly.

LADY ASTOR COMING TO UNITED STATES

London—(AP)—Lady Astor, American born peeress and member of the House of Commons, has started for the United States "for a good long rest." But when she started and on what ship, where she is to land and how long she is to be away, her private secretary refuses to say.

"Lady Astor desires complete quiet," the secretary said Tuesday morning.

"If the American reporters find her when she lands, the onus won't be on my head."

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GAIN OF
198 CHILDREN

Count Shows More Girls Than
Boys of School Age in Appleton

The number of children of school age in Appleton increased 198 to 6,475 since July 1925, according to the annual school census which was completed last week by J. G. Pfeil, trustee. This is the largest gain ever recorded in one year, according to Miss Carrie Morgan, assistant superintendent of schools.

The recent count showed there are 475 children of school age in Appleton. However, this number is never rolled in city schools according to Miss Morgan, because many of these boys and girls, who are lawfully of school age, are already out of school and at work. The count in 1925 was 6,277.

For the sixth time neither a gain nor a loss was recorded in the sixth ward. The count last year was 1,021 and it was identical this year.

The largest gain reported in one ward was in the second which has a gain of 23 over last year's census. Of the 6,475 children of school age in Appleton, 3,224 are boys and 3,251 are girls. Following is the census by wards:

	Boys	Girls
First Ward	545	561
Second Ward	234	267
Third Ward	723	714
Fourth Ward	432	470
Fifth Ward	729	715
Sixth Ward	509	512
Total	3,224	3,251

Is Your Garden Sick?

Is there something wrong with your garden? Are your plants turning yellow and dying? Are the vines wilting and drying up? Are the beans and the squash and the tomatoes covered with bugs? Are you almost in despair because you don't know what to do to save the many hours of labor you have given to your garden?

The United States Government is the "best" doctor in the world for sick gardens. In its booklet "Vegetables and Garden Insects" it tells how to prevent and cure most garden ailments. With this booklet at hand you can diagnose the trouble and apply the correct remedy.

Our Washington Bureau will secure a copy of this booklet for you if you will send in your name and address together with two cents in stamps to cover return postage.

NAME 2 WINNERS
IN ESSAY TILT

Martin Griesbach and Marie Fischer Win Free Trips to State Fair

Outagamie-co winners in the statewide essay contest which was conducted by the educational committee of the Wisconsin Manufacturers association are Martin Griesbach, route 4, Appleton, and Marie Fischer, route 5, Appleton, according to a letter from G. F. Kull, secretary of the association, to A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools.

The winning contestants have already been notified that they have won a free trip to the Fourth Wisconsin Products exposition and 1926 state fair. They have been advised that full instructions relative to the trip, when and where it will start, and the name of the chaperone will be mailed to them at a later date. Superintendent Meating has been asked to act as the chaperone.

Martin Griesbach is a pupil of the St. Edwards parochial school at Mackville. Last year the boys' essay contest was won by a pupil of the same school, Benedict Heimmermann.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:
The "Perfect Retention Shields," hold the rupture perfectly no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening on the average case in ten days and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power needing no further outside support.

While providing safety and comfort to all old and aggravated cases, the results are most favorable when the rupture is just discovered and still small; it will save you no end of trouble, pain and expense in the future if you now take advantage of this opportunity. No leg straps or elastic bandages are used. Can be worn while bathing and are highly sanitary.

Letters from highly satisfied clients available.

WARNING: Advertised mail order contraptions are worthless and so are elastic belts with their chafing, filthy legstraps. They not only make your rupture worse, but cause stomach trouble and often backache by pressing on the lump instead of holding the intestines where they belong. There is therefore always danger of strangulation. No medicine will help a rupture and you cannot fix yourself. Call on me and let me show you. 95% of all children, according to statistics, get rid of their rupture if fitted with the right kind of sanitary appliance.

Give Me Woman Driver
Says Frisco Traffic Boss

This is the fourth article of a series on men and women as automobile drivers. Police of nine large cities were canvassed for their opinions, and voted, 5 to 4, that women were the better drivers.

San Francisco—"Give me the women every time," says Paul McEvoy, traffic officer at Fourth and Markets streets, San Francisco's busiest crossing.

McEvoy has directed traffic from this station for the last five years. Previous to that he was in the army. "Women play the game," he said.

"They know the signals have a motive behind them and they are always willing to co-operate by following the instructions.

"It is often hard for them to grasp the intricacy of traffic schemes; but once they get the drift they are as steady as a good watch."

When told that his colleague in Los Angeles believes women lose their heads, he said, "Not here, it may be the air, but they are as cool as ice."

"Men here have been cured of the speedy instinct, but now they go to the other extreme of thinking they

Modern Schools are Heated with Circulating Warm Air
WHY?

Did you ever stop to consider why modern schools, hospitals, theatres and public buildings are heated by circulating warm air?

Engineers and architects know from vast experience that circulating warm air is the practical and healthy type of heat in buildings where the presence of many people demands a steady flow of constantly circulating clean fresh air.

The health of your children certainly deserves the same protection in your home as their school provides.

BLAME CAMPER, SMOKER
FOR MOST FOREST FIRES

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Campers and smokers are fast becoming the arch enemy of forest conservation in the Great Lake states.

Forestry experts of the Lake States Forest Experiment station have come to this conclusion after an extensive survey of the situation.

Recreationists today constitute the largest cause of fire declares Dr. Raphael Zol, director of the station. They have superseded the railroads who five years ago were responsible for the largest percentage of fires in that region.

The station recently announced that timber fires in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota during the past decade cost $38,000,000.

"Forest fires in the Lake states are almost entirely due to human agencies," declared Director Zol, "and are therefore preventable."

Flax-li-num—shuts out summer heat!

THE hot broiling sun on your roof is the chief reason why your home gets so hot in summer. Does it stay hot all night long?

You can shut out most of that heat. Simply install one inch thick FLAX-LI-NUM over your attic floor or joists, or under the roof rafters. This flax fibre insulation will prevent the scorching sun from making an oven of your home. Similarly in the winter, it will keep heat in, and so cut your fuel costs that in a few years your investment will be repaid.

FLAX-LI-NUM cannot rot, nor will it crack, bulge or tear. It is vermin proof, as well, and will stay in place during the life of the structure in which it is installed.

It is best to install FLAX-LI-NUM in side walls, ceilings and roofs when you build. Then you have complete assurance of year-round comfort. FLAX-LI-NUM is the most effective known insulation and is a practical building material. It comes in semi-rigid sheets, one-half inch thick for side walls, one inch thick for roof and ceiling insulation. Correctly installed it will reduce your heating cost one-third.

The distributor or anyone of the dealers listed below can supply you with full information regarding this effective material, or, write direct to the Flax-li-num Insulating Co., St. Paul, Minn.

BLAINE LOSING OUT

The Capital Times of Madison is the recognized organ of the LaFollette Progressive party in Wisconsin. Its editor was the close personal friend of the late Senator LaFollette and is an intimate friend of the present Senator LaFollette. The Capital Times announces that it will not support the candidacy of John J. Blaine for United States senator. It would be rank hypocrisy for the Capital Times to support the candidacy of John J. Blaine for United States senator in view of what we have said of his record in recent years. . . . In these columns we have frequently stated that Blaine is a political opportunist, who has been using Progressive principles and the Progressive movement for his own personal advancement—that he has thought of self first and the Progressive movement second. We stand by that statement.

In the opinion of the Capital Times Blaine is neither fit nor deserves to be United States senator. The Capital Times, owing to the fact that it is published in Madison and is naturally in close contact with inside political affairs, and because of its relationship with the LaFollette family, is in a position to know the facts and to fairly and adequately judge Blaine's qualifications from the Progressive standpoint. That it repudiates him in toto goes to prove what this and other newspapers of the state have asserted, that he is a demagogic politician who cares little about Progressive principles and who is mainly interested in his self-advancement. His appointments and removals, his legislative recommendations, his political deals, his methods, all converge to stamp him as a political boss of the backroom type who is ever ready to sacrifice principle to self. Our own opinion is Blaine cares no more about Progressive principle or doctrines than he does about Greek mythology. We think that politically he is entirely untrustworthy. Evidently the Capital Times is of the same opinion.

Extraordinary as it may appear, it is nevertheless not so astonishing that the Capital Times should repudiate Blaine in the midst of his senatorial aspirations. The Times for several years has pointed out Blaine's delinquencies, and, along with courageous Progressive leaders, has sought to rid the party of the burden of carrying him. But Blaine has a grip on the state machine which neither LaFollette nor sincere Progressive leaders have thus far been able to dislodge. He has had to be reckoned with because of his vast appointive power and the personal organization he has built up. His whole record is dotted with cheap political practices. We do not know of anything of a really constructive nature, either legislative or executive, during Blaine's administration that can be attributed to him or to his influence. It is, in our opinion, a record detrimental to the public interest and the cause of the Progressive party.

The day after the Capital Times repudiated Blaine for Senator, R. G. Tegtmeyer, treasurer of the Progressive Republican State Central committee, and an ardent LaFollette man, also withdrew his support from Blaine in favor of Lenroot, with this statement: "I have been in touch with Governor Blaine more or less, in the last few years, and I think I can speak from knowledge of the facts when I say that Blaine is not as Progressive as Lenroot." Adding that he was in accord with the statement of the case made by the Capital Times, and analyzing Blaine's record at some length. Mr. Tegtmeyer says: "I believe Blaine has been seriously at fault in his taxation policy, and I believe the taxpayers are now coming to realize that his course has been detrimental." These are not the only defections from the Blaine camp. If we exclude the multitude of Blaine appointees and the ramifications of his machine throughout the state, we will find that the really independent, sincere Progressives have little use for Blaine and want to see him removed as a political power. Furthermore, it is morally certain that he never would have had LaFollette's approval nor the approval of young LaFollette today had he not succeeded in building up an effective machine of his own. Many of the candidates for places on the Progressive state ticket are out and out anti-Blaine men. All are LaFollette supporters, but they will not blindly do the bidding of the governor and submit to his autocratic demands.

Mr. Lenroot was one of the original Progressives of Wisconsin. He was one of the first to break with the Republican Old Guard. He is today more genuinely Progressive than any of the politicians who have attempted to usurp the authority and place once held by R. M. LaFollette in Wisconsin. His record on legislation in congress affecting labor is practically 100 per cent right, according to the American Federation of Labor itself. He is one of the best friends of the farmer in the United States senate today, and is in a position to do more for him than probably any other man in the senate because of his great influence in that body and with the administration. He has a record that is clean and irreproachable. No one can point to double dealing, secret diplomacy or political intrigue on his part. His whole political life is in the open. It is on the side of the people, and vigorously hostile to the special interests which have sought to dominate the Republican party and congress. Mr. Lenroot deserves the appreciation and confidence of the people of Wisconsin, whom he has served faithfully and well and at no time betrayed. In this campaign the voters ought to think for themselves in an endeavor to draw a true picture of both Blaine and Lenroot, what they stand for, what they really are. First of all, we should have honorable, courageous and unselfish public servants so far as it is possible to obtain them. Mr. Lenroot is a man of that type, and he is soundly progressive in his policies. He represents, in our judgment, the best Wisconsin could ask for in representation at Washington.

The conclusions of the Capital Times regarding Blaine are inescapable, as are those of Mr. Tegtmeyer, treasurer of the Progressive State Central committee.

THE NURSE

A great controversy is now raging over the trained nurse. Hospitals, doctors and many patients complain about her over-professionalism and high salary. The latter precluding many middle class people from having the services of a nurse when needed. On the other hand, the nurse points to the time she spends in service working for almost nothing and states that this justifies her high salary.

Perhaps there is a little right on both sides. Certainly nurses are most necessary and should get adequate compensation. Still, they should be available at a reasonable price. Nurses would do much to justify their position by agreeing to a reasonable wage scale and sticking to it.

TODAY'S POEM

SLAUGHTERING

The man, right now, I have in mind, was always getting far behind in work and such. A lazy guy who never had the pep to try.
He'd drag along from day to day, quite satisfied to draw his pay, and do as little as he could. Work hard? He knew not why he should.
He held his job, was never thrown out. They figured him a roustabout who slow, but sure, would slide on through with things no other man would do.

He started out ten years ago. A man, in that time, ought to grow, but slaughtering as his natural way—he still pulls down the same old pay.
When he is sixty years, or so, no doubt (and far too late) he'll know that work that earned a meager wage was work that laughed out loud at age.
'Tis woe to him who has not flung his heart in work when he was young. The best toll comes when in your prime. Men find it out—but not in time.

A WELL REARED CHILD

The commodore, whose navigating skill keeps this bark out of reefs, shoals and hot water, local squalls excepted, has a room in his home fitted up with a practical gymnasium apparatus, and for a short time every day he and his 12 year old boy—the commodore is the luckiest guy about some things—hop in there and do a foment or two of the Brady symphony with impromptu variations. This habit, besides having an excellent influence upon the physical welfare of man and boy, serves to draw father and son closer together, tightening and strengthening that bond between them which too often becomes attenuated in these material days. After they have warmed up, the commodore and the boy put on the gloves and box a few rounds, and of late this has become real boxing and the commodore, a lanky customer, has to hump himself some to stay with the lad.

Now that is what I should call the ideal relationship between father and son. It is going to be mighty hard for that boy to betray the confidence his dad is giving him, and of course I have merely chosen a single detail for illustration, is bound to make the young man play the game squarely. That the abstract principle of child training, of which this is a concrete view, is the right one is evident, I think, in the spirit of the understanding which exists between these two boys or men, as you prefer. Whenever the boy wants the truth about anything he puts it up to dad and dad gives it to him as man to man.

It is a father never told me anything, or in the case of daughter "Mother always put me off by saying I'd find out when I grew older."

A friendly critic tells me that he feels convinced I am wrong when I advocate the teaching of the truth to children from the very beginning, at least the truth about human life. My critic does not clearly explain just what he would teach the children about this sacred question, but perhaps he means they should go on as they always have, in such dim light as they may get from their ordinary religious instruction. Many religious leaders seem to hold that opinion. They scarcely take into account the enormous influence of unreligious or nonreligious factors in the information or misinformation, not to call it education, of the child. If we hesitate to teach the child the truth, and the vicious or unreligious or immoral source of information or misinformation is not only available to the child but literally thrust upon him and made as easy and as attractive as possible, the child's mind is certain to be debauched.

I do not know what the religious structure of the commodore's son is, but I believe the boy is getting the finest possible, moral training—a precept in every walk. Not that a boxing match comprises the moral education of a boy, but in this instance the gloves are padded with parental and filial affection. The man is his boy's best pal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Why Sweat About It?

Does not the appearance of a rash, eczema, itch and other skin troubles indicate that the system is overburdened with extraneous impure matter which the system is trying to throw off? Is not the method of an old German doctor who seeks to rid the system of these poisons by means of sweat baths and the like better than applying salves and taking pills and potions? (E. K. V.)

Answer—No, that is just a fancy which appeals to one who has no knowledge of physiology. I interpret your use of the term "pills and potions" to mean medical science as opposed to the folk remedy of the home.

Sweat baths "rid the system" of nothing more than salt and water, practically. This does not mean that sweating is not a desirable thing for well persons and sometimes for sick persons but before you take the arguments of the quack too seriously it would be well to inquire into the physiology of sweating—that is, if you have any confidence in science.

Q. Just what does sesquicentennial mean? C. L. D.

A. The word sesqui is derived from the Latin words semis meaning half and que meaning and. Centennial means of or pertaining to a hundredth anniversary, therefore sesquicentennial refers to a hundred and a half or hundred fiftieth anniversary.

Q. What did "playing both ends against the middle" originally refer to? W. T. S.

A. The expression playing both ends against the middle had reference to a system of trimming cards for dealing a brace game of Faro.

Q. What was the county that is now Liberia formerly called? R. J.

A. Liberia is a negro republic on the west coast of Africa, a country which was formerly known as Upper Guinea. It extends about 150 miles along the coast and its area is 43,000 square miles.

Q. How long have there been state-owned forests? N. F. A.

A. Only for about 20 years have American commonwealths acquired state forests.

THE NEW HOPE

So he looked into his own mind and the result of that inward look was the little volume, "The Author's Mind." But it is not at all what you would imagine. There is nothing sensational or bizarre in the book. It is not at all a book of "confessions." It is not even autobiographical. It is not on the surface. It is quiet and restrained, severely restrained so much so that there is in it only a suggestion of the flavor of Emerson. The thought is close-packed, and after a paragraph requires re-reading before its full import is obtained.

WORK IS REWARD

There is absolutely nothing that will tell any young writer how to become "successful." Like any writer who is worth his salt, your Mr. Conrad does not know how a writer may become "successful." He knows how any writer may make the most of his personality, his circumstances, his material in creating books that shall be honest, workmanlike. Whether or not those books will sell is another thing, as he tells of it in his little volume, that is quite irrelevant. The realist is already twice-paid when he has written honestly what he has a right to write. That work is its own reward.

Here is the concluding paragraph "Concerning one thing I am certain that there is an I, and that I. All the rest is the most interesting, the most absorbing speculation. I am a mental being, and a physical thing can harm me. Nothing is ever put out at me, shouted in my face, and so I cannot become jaded. Everywhere is different, residing with me in its peculiar nature, and I cannot become bored. I go up, I come down the earth. I do my work, and it interests me, for I was called by nature to do it. When I have done enough for today, I shall sit down and speculate. My universe sits down with me. I speculate about it, I shall never be done with speculating about it. It is all very interesting, am serene, tranquil." The man who can say that sincerely can dispense with "success."

2 Families In Reunion At Neenah

The seventh annual reunion of the Nagreen and Thompson families was held Sunday at Riverside park at Neenah. Ruben W. Thompson acted as host. Games races and contests furnished the entertainment. A tug of war between the Nagreen and Thompson families was won by the Nagreen family. An Appleton orchestra furnished music during the afternoon and evening. The 80 persons present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nagreen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Nagreen, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowerman all of Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bowerman, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Nagreen, Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp, Shiocton; Mrs. Eva Schaffner and Jack Oestreicher, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schumann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schumann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family of the town of Harrison; John Konz and family of Little Chute; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Alfie Thompson and family, Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schumann and family, Onida, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Nagreen and family, Oshkosh; Mr. and Mrs. J. Mrs. John Roach, Mrs. Adolph Geier, Miss Mary Geenen and Miss Catherine Tracy were also on the committee. Another open card party will be given Monday, August 1, at the Catholic home by the Catholic Daughters of America.

CAMPING OUT FINDS PLACE AMONG LATEST SPORTS CAMPING ACCESSORIES MAKE CAMPING A PLEASURE

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
No York-Two important influences have combined to charge camping from the simple sport it used to be to the de luxe form of vacationing it now is. These are women and automobiles.

Automobiles made it possible for women to enjoy camping trips, for women made it possible, or maybe necessary, for all the comforts of home to be added.

To be sure, women probably invented none of the collapsible, pneumatic, and tabloid equipment which now accompanies a motor camping trip so that when you hitch up the auto, you store on the running board a tent, stove, ice box, bedding, dining table, chairs, cups, plates, and cutlery. But women caused it to be invented.

Once having gone in for camping, they taxed men's inventive ability until apparently there is no limit to what you can collapse.

One of the most satisfactory pieces of equipment is one of the new air beds which is apparently only a slender roll of khaki until you introduce it to the auto pump, where it takes on mattress proportions and in no time you have a much more comfortable pallet than you usually draw in a country "spare room."

A few of these and some blankets in your machine and you should worry about hotel accommodations.

Sleeping bags are another triumph of space and matter. Into a small bundle—an easy armload—is a waterproof fitted with as many blankets as you like, and the general effect after the untangling of the string is little short of magical.

The bag, a great favorite with girl hikers as well, may be used with a collapsible cot, an air mattress, or right flat on the greenward. If you fear mosquitoes or small animals that crawl by night, you can have the protection of a mosquito bar, mounted on a delicate framework, that becomes nothing in your hand.

Cots that fold into a mere bundle of kindling wood are to be had, as well as all sorts of hammocks that make very comfortable beds—ask any sailor.

Other folding devices for automobile campers are folding chairs and tables, so that dining may be raised from the earth, folding dish pans, bath tubs, wash-stands, even khaki shelves and cupboards and all sorts of folding chairs from camp stools to steamer chairs and chaise lounges.

One may find collapsible "water buckets and rubber wash basins that have great capacity, but no bulk, and camp stoves of every description that do everything but a complete fade-out if you work them right. For these are collapsible crates, folding broilers, and sets of cooking utensils that nest into each other in the most charming fashion.

Coffee pots and skillets and cups for campers shed their handles for compactness' sake, and forks and spoons at opposite poles of the same stem, save "cover" space.

You can get knives that will not rust white enameled dishes that will not break, and waterproof match boxes.

In the mass one mustn't forget to mention a dressing table that folds into a packet the size of an envelope purse into which you may see how rapidly you are tanning and just what the free life of the great open spaces is doing for your skin.

Auto campers buy their food as they go along, spread their beds where they happen to be on Mother Earth, in as sequestered a spot as possible, and laugh at inn keepers and restaurateurs.

It is easy to see why automobile rambling has become such a popular way of spending the vacation.

Cold Stew A Splendid Picnic Dish

Make this a picnic season. So much can be derived from being out of doors on glorious summer days. There is the much needed change in environment which does the heart of any man so much good, and in the case of the family, mother in particular. The family will be delighted with a day in the country.

A day in the country, though, we must admit, would not be a success if the most important item of the picnic program was not provided for—the food. Here, mothers, are a few suggestions which might prove valuable for next Sunday's outing.

HOT DISH ADDS ZEST
Although many delicious picnic lunches consist of all cold foods, even accompanied by a cold drink, a hot dish adds much zest to the rest of the meal and seems to be more satisfying to the appetite sharpened by fresh air.

With the present day equipment of picnic baskets, thermos bottles and jugs, it is not difficult to plan one or more hot dishes; or a fr— pan and a coffee pot may be tucked in some odd space in the car to perform their duties at the camp fire. Hot coffee may be carried in a thermos bottle but a true camper will much prefer to make his coffee over the camp fire, as its aroma when cooking out of doors is part of the pleasure of the picnic.

With a lunch of one hot dish, the dessert may be very simple, possibly consisting of fruit and cookies, both of which are easily carried. Any other accompaniments such as salads, pickles, or relishes may be added.

Frankfurters may be toasted at fire and with crisp bacon placed between buttered rolls. This may be served with a hot potato salad which is easily prepared over a camp fire.

PREPARED AT HOME
Another picnic dish which is exceedingly good, appetizing, and nutritious, is a stew. Try serving it at a picnic and see with how much relief it is eaten. The stew may be prepared at home, cooled thoroughly before packing it in a tightly covered kettle or pail, and reheated a few minutes before the meal is served. It may be cooked at the picnic grounds if time permits.

Soup, rich with vegetables and meat, makes a good accompaniment at a picnic meal. It to be seen within an hour or two after leaving home, it may put into a thermos jar, but it not to be eaten for several hours. It is better to cool and then pack as mentioned for the stew. This addition will change an otherwise cold lunch into a picnic long remembered.

COLD FRIED CHICKEN
Cold fried chicken is a common picnic food but why not a chicken stew? You may enjoy a good chicken stew in your own dining room, but nothing can be compared with eating it out in the open air and it will be voted by all as the best ever eaten.

Surely everyone has tried broiling a steak at a picnic and knows how delicious it is. Chops of various kinds, or sausages can also be cooked in the same manner. They may be accompanied, if time permits, by camp-baked potatoes, or by creamed potatoes prepared on the spot. Served with rolls or sandwiches, fruit and whatever else one may wish to carry, this makes a meal fit for king.

Another popular picnic dish is made of pieces of various meats, such as bacon, beef and lamb placed alternately on a sharpened stick and cooked over a fire. The flavor of the bacon adds to that of other meats.

Household Hints

BEFORE YOU STORE THEM
To clean furs, brush them well and comb once with the nap and once against it. Wipe over with soft flannel and then with a cotton pad inside an old silk cloth dipped in gasoline or benzine.

KEEP AWAY MOTHS
Before you put heavy winter clothing into storage, be sure to have it cleaned. Perfect cleanliness is the best protection from moths.

ECONOMY
Padded felt hats can be restored with dyes.

FASTIDIOUSNESS
Clothes should always be hung on hangers as soon as they are taken off, and should be aired before they are shut away in the closet.

CLEANER FOR BLACK
Clear, black coffee, diluted with water, and containing a little ammonia makes an excellent cleaner for black cloth garments.

THE MORNING PRUNES
When your family gets tired of prunes in their usual stewed fashion, pit them, and add to a custard, or reheat them with minced lemon or orange peel added to the water.

ENGLISH DESSERT
Griddle cakes are a prized dessert in England where they are made very thin and spread with sugar or jelly.

IT ADDS PEP
A bit of dry mustard will improve the flavor of mayonnaise and French salad dressing.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
Breakfast—Raspberries, cereal, thin cream, crisp broiled bacon, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Scalloped cabbage and tomatoes, brown bread, rhubarb bread, pudding, milk, tea.

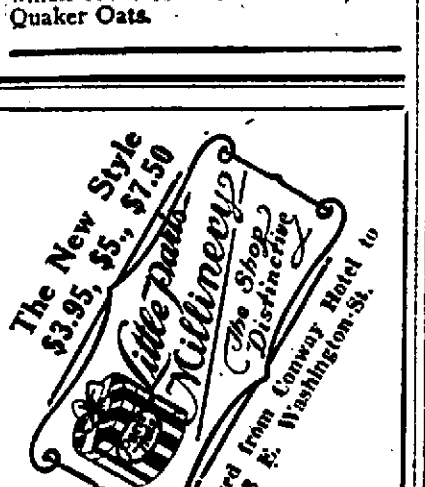

Dinner—Swiss steak, mashed potatoes, savory green beans, radishes and onions, strawberry charlotte, graham bread, milk, coffee.

These menus are planned to be nourishing, attractive, easy to prepare and serve and at the same time economical. With the exception of the dinner dessert the dishes can be prepared at a low cost. As many house wives feel justified in serving a more elaborate dessert to their families when the main part of the meal is inexpensive, the recipe for strawberry charlotte follows.

STRAWBERRY CHARLOTTE
One cup crushed berries and juice, 1 lemon, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 4 tablespoons cold water, 1-2 cup boiling water, whites of 2 eggs, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 dozen lady fingers.

The strained juice of berries can be used if preferred. Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and sugar to berry pulp and juice and bring to the boiling point. Remove from fire and stir in softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. When cool stir in lemon juice. Let stand until mixture begins to jelly. Then beat with a whisk until frothy. Beat in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Whip cream until firm with 2 tablespoons powdered sugar and fold into first mixture. Line a mold with lady fingers split in halves and choke ripe berries. Carefully turn in prepared mixture and chill three hours or longer.

MORE DELICIOUS
Soup stock used instead of water in meat sauces, gravies and stews makes them much richer.

BANKERS WIN IN SOFT BALL GAME

Defeat Volleyballers, 5 to 4, in Interesting Contest

Kaukauna—The Bankers whipped the Volleyballers in a close game at the municipal playgrounds Monday evening. The final count was 5 to 4. Sterling ball was played by both squads and pitchers kept the hits scattered. Hulén pitched for the Volleyballers and Olm was on the mound for Bankers.

Both teams scored in the first inning and again in the third. Everything was quiet then until the fifth when the Bankers scored again. The Volleyballers came back with one in the sixth and the Bankers took two. In a desperate attempt to rally in the seventh the Bankers scored one run.

The lineup:
Volleyballers: Hulén, Ryan, Gottfried, Kalista, Gehr, Gerhartz, Rohm, Engholdts, Krahn, an Hoffman.

Bankers: W. Johnson, Mulholland, C. Rennieck, Zekind, Wahlers, Brenzel, Spindler, Olm and Weitenbach.

STAGE AND SCREEN

DOROTHY ADSIT TO APPEAR ON LOCAL STAGE

Appleton's own premier danseuse, now home from a successful Orpheum circuit tour, will appear on the stage at Fischer Appleton Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in conjunction with the musical program by Vincent Carr and his band. The feature photoplay will be an adaptation of Edson Marshall's thriller of the north "The Isle of Retribution." Robert Frazer and Lillian Rich with Mildred Harris and others are cast upon an idle near Alaska after the boat upon which they had embarked is shipwrecked. At first inspection the island appeared to be uninhabited, and thoughts of starvation presented themselves in the bleak wilderness. Then a menacing figure appears. Doomsday, the czar of the wilderness, a half mad escaped convict. The ensuing struggle to escape his tyranny will thrill the most blasé theatre goer.

REVIEW

If you're suffering from ennui or grouch, be sure to go to the Elite Theatre today and tomorrow, and see Samuel Goldwyn's latest offering, an adaptation of Montagu Class famous stage play, "Partners Again," which Henry King has filmed in a most notable and humorous manner. It is full of fun from the first flicker to the last, and again implants the likeliness of the lovable partners, Potash & Perlmutter, as exemplified by George Sidney and Alexander Carr. In the hearts of the picture-loving public.

All of Samuel Goldwyn's "Potash & Perlmutter" pictures have been comedy successes, with an ever-increasing popularity, but this latest is the best yet. If there was an opportunity to pack another laugh into the picture, it was because of lack of footage.

Girls Keep Caretaker At City Swimming Pool On Jump

Girls and trouble are synonymous with Chet Bleier, caretaker at the municipal swimming pool. When girls visit the pool it generally means trouble for Chet.

"Pleasing girls is much more difficult than pleasing boys," Bleier says. "Girls are continually losing their belongings, getting lost themselves, or getting into deep water where they don't belong. Two of the three swimmers I pulled out of deep water so far this season were girls who were under the impression that they could swim farther than they really could."

FARMER WANTS CHANCE TO PROSPER--THOMPSON

LEGISLATION IS IMPORTANT NEED OF AGRICULTURE

President of American Farm Bureau Federation Names Farmers' Needs

BY ROY J. GIBBONS

Chicago—The public realizes that the farmer is facing a crisis and wants relief.

But what is this crisis and what relief is wanted?

Many have qualified to explain but few have been so well chosen for the task as Sam H. Thompson, the authorized mouthpiece of the majority of the farmers in this country.

Thompson is president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, an organization with membership in 45 states and branches in 155 counties.

Thompson knows the farmers because he is a farmer.

Herewith he gives the readers of the Post-Crescent through NEA Service, an interpretation of the agricultural dilemma.

"What the farmer really wants," says Thompson, "is legislation which will give him an equal opportunity to prosper under the American plan that is offered to other groups."

OTHERS GET FEDERAL AID
"The farmer sees labor protected by immigration laws, by laws limiting hours of work and other artificial means.

"The farmer sees industry protected by tariffs and other means to maintain an artificial level of domestic prices.

"All these things the farmer sees and appreciates. He realizes that his own industry, the largest in America, with a capitalization of more than seventy billion dollars, is unprotected, meeting world competition with the result that those engaged in agricultural pursuits find themselves at severe disadvantage.

"Not only are those directly engaged in farming at a disadvantage, but the farmer knows that the great numbers of other groups whose livelihood is dependent upon agriculture are also at a disadvantage.

"With this understanding the farmer proposes that governmental action be taken to provide an artificial means which will place agriculture on the same basis with labor, industry and all the other groups in the United States.

"Agriculture is disappointed but not discouraged at the failure of congress to enact legislation providing this equality of opportunity. We realize that the adoption of a new agricultural policy cannot be done over night.

"The need of a sound policy for agriculture is now admitted by all. Such a policy demands a wholesome, straightforward provision which will enable agricultural producers to stabilize their industry so that they receive the benefit of the American protective system to a degree and on the same level that it has secured stability and independence for American labor and American industry.

"We do not think that the farmer's prosperity depends solely on governmental action. The radical who proclaims that is just as far amiss as he who maintains that agriculture alone of all industries should not receive aid from the government.

"The farmer is not getting a fair share of the national income. Fixed charges of farming are inescapable and inelastic. Taxes, wages, interest and the cost of non-agricultural commodities make a total that is wholly out of relationship to the price the farmer gets when he hauls his crop to market.

"The farmer cannot successfully overcome this tremendous obstacle unless the condition is frankly recognized and a remedy sought in a real agricultural policy for America which brings the farmer into fair relationship with the other groups."

THE FARM GROUP PLAN

"The bill which the farm group urged upon Congress embodied in it these principles and offered we believe, the devices for affording agriculture the necessary protection and assistance to provide this equality which agriculture needs."

"The proposed legislation in brief provided for a farm advisory council and a Federal Farm board with authority to control and dispose of domestic surpluses of agricultural commodities through co-operative marketing associations and other agencies.

"This legislation provided that the government place a fund under the operation of this board. It also provided the means to collect this fund and return it to the U. S. treasury. "In other words, the operation of the plan submitted by farmers to Congress would not have cost the government a cent. This was for the definite purpose of avoiding government subsidy.

"This plan of financing the disposal of surplus agricultural production provides an equalization fee which was to be charged back against the entire commodity. This equalization fee was to be used in disposing of the surplus farm markets at world prices, thus protecting the domestic market and domestic price."

COOL MILK PROMPTLY BEFORE IT LEAVES BARN

A large part of loss from sour milk, high bacteria count and low quality better and ches might be avoided by promptly cooling the milk at the dairy barn. All milk should be cooled to 50 degrees Fahrenheit, or lower and should be kept that cool until delivered at the receiving plant.

FARM CHAMPION

SAM H. THOMPSON

Legislation which will give the farmer an equal chance to prosper with other classes is what the farmer wants, according to Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Thompson is a farmer himself and has given the farm question much study.

BEET EXPERIMENT IS SUCCESSFUL

Value of Fertilizer Is Shown in Eight Acre Plot on Bergman Farm

W. F. WINSEY

Black Creek—A sugar beet field of eight acres on the farm of Ernest Bergman, highway 47, set aside by the Menominee Sugar Company for the purpose of demonstrating the value of various kinds of fertilizers in the production of sugar beets, is attracting much attention. So striking is the contrast in the color and luxuriance of the beets in the divisions of the field that field men, county agents and beet growers from the surrounding territory are making inspection pilgrimages to the field and tourists are inquiring about the sharp lines of demarcation in the beets that to the uninitiated should be uniform.

The sugar company to carry out its program of demonstration divided the Bergman field into four equal parts by parallel lines extending at right angles from the highway. On one of these parts, ground limestone was used as a fertilizer, and on another part, a commercial fertilizer was sowed with the beets. On a third part a commercial fertilizer was scattered broadcast and in the fourth section no fertilizer was used. As a result, the beets in certain parts of the field are now about three inches high and appear backward in growth, while in other parts they are a foot in height, thrifty, and well rooted.

A doctor in Vienna has invented a process for printing flexible glass beads into a fabric so that the bead will not become loosened unless it is torn out.

Amundson Will Attend County Agents Meeting

County Agent Robert Amundson will attend a conference of county agricultural agents which will be held Friday and Saturday at Green Lake. Methods of helping arouse the interest of Wisconsin farmers in the importance of reforestation and utilizing land for the purpose to which it is best adapted will be discussed. The conference will be for county agents of the southern part of the state.

A conference for county agents of the northern part of the state is being held Monday and Tuesday of this week at Trout Lake in Vilas co.

"The county agents are the points of contact with the farmers of the state, and we want their aid and their counsel in furthering our program," declared F. G. Wilson, of the Wisconsin college of agriculture. "We are encouraging forest planting and emphasizing the importance of using the land for the purpose for which it is best adapted," Mr. Wilson continued. "We have gotten to the point where we can show the farmer a better use for his land whether in forestry or crops."

The conferences are the first statewide meetings of the forestry subject held in the state. Small sectional meetings were held last year when the college of agriculture embarked upon the mission of helping the forestry situation. G. H. Collingwood, United States extension forester, Thomas Bradley, extension forester of Vermont; C. L. Harrington of the state conservation committee, Mr. Wilson and K. L. Hatch of the college will attend.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the forestry problem and its relation to agriculture by the farmers of the state Mr. Wilson finds. Nurserystock supplied gratis by the state conservation commission has been taken up readily by farmers

CORN CROP LOOKS BETTER NOW THAN EARLIER IN JULY

Fair Crop Will Be Obtained if Weather Remains Favorable

Farmers of Outagamie-co are looking forward to brighter corn crop prospects than were apparent at the beginning of the month. Indications at that time were that the crop would be the poorest in ten years. Now, however, with warm weather, a fair amount of rain, and a late fall, a fair crop may yet be obtained, says Robert Amundson, county agricultural agent. Cold weather, up to the end of the first week in July, retarded the growth of the crop and prospects at that time were that there would be little or no corn. At present, while the crop is far behind its usual growth for this time of the year, the general outlook is not unpromising. A severe early frost would be little less than ruinous, however. Conditions throughout the United States are not much more favorable than in Wisconsin.

A state report shows oats and barley in excellent condition, with oats at 91 per cent and barley at 90 per cent. Oats is reported four points, and barley 3 points, over the average for the last five years. County farmers are generally reporting good yields, although in many cases the straws are weak, and the grain bent too far to the ground.

The hay crop of Wisconsin varies from poor in the western and northern part of the state, where rains were lacking, to good in the southeastern part of the state, where rains were plentiful. The percentage condition varies from 69 to 86 per cent. The acreage is 12 per cent ahead of last year with 347,000 acres seeded. The first cutting gave a good yield.

Wisconsin rye is better than last year, but the prospects are for less than an average crop.

Pastures are reported fair in western Wisconsin and very good in eastern Wisconsin.

MANY PRESENT AT FIELD DAY

Farmers Visit Fertilized Fields for Special Demonstration

A large number of farmers who are interested in growing sugar beets and in fertilizers for root crops attended the field day which was held Monday in the Black Creek-Freedom district. The farm of E. Bergman, route 2, Black Creek, was the gathering place for the caravan of automobiles.

Six selected fertilizer fields were visited during the demonstration, beginning at the Bergman farm and ending at the farms of Peter Schuh and Bert McCann at Freedom. The demonstration was arranged by Robert Amundson, Outagamie-co agricultural agent, with the Menominee River Sugar company and the Armour Fertilizer company cooperating.

Proper cultivation of root crops and the right use of commercial fertilizers, it was demonstrated at the meeting, often bring large profits to the growers of root crops.

NEW MILK RECORD IS SET IN AMERICA

Washington—Milk consumption in the United States last year reached the highest point in the nation's history.

The quantity of milk, including cream, consumed in fluid form was 51,326,000,000 pounds an increase of 1,551,000,000 pounds over 1924.

Per capita consumption of milk and cream for the country as a whole is estimated at 1.20 pints a day. Milk consumption increased in most of the larger cities.

CAN GROW GRAIN IN ALASKAN VALLEYS

The Yukon, Tanana and Matanuska Valleys in Alaska have fully demonstrated their adaptability to grain growing and plans are being made to develop Sustina and Kuskokwim Valleys for grain cultivation on a large scale.

PEANUT GROWERS ARE SEEKING PROTECTION

Since it costs a little over 6 cents a pound to grow an acre of peanuts in North Carolina, growers in this state are demanding protection against the flood of cheap peanuts from China.

SOIL SURVEYS MAY DISCLOSE RICH DEPOSITS

State Soils Laboratory Has Uncovered Hidden Fortunes in Limestone

Madison, Wis.—(AP)—Hidden fortunes in limestone, marl and other deposits in which Wisconsin is rich, often are uncovered by surveys of the state soils laboratory.

This was revealed Monday by C. J. Chapman, director of the department which is engaged in carrying the results of soil science back to the farm and helping the owners get the maximum revenue from the land.

Many times, Mr. Chapman said, he and others of the laboratory have been called to farms to make tests which have shown valuable deposits of which the farmer was ignorant.

Freight growth of crops that puzzled the farmer have been explained by the result of scientific investigation.

Mr. Chapman cited recent cases in Trempealeau and Grant cos. "In Trempealeau co a farmer was getting fine crops of some red alluvial soil near the bank of the Trempealeau river while obtaining only mediocre results in residual soil ten feet away. Laboratory tests showed that the reddish soil contained between 3,000 to 5,000 pounds of phosphorus to the acre on a surface of eight inches, ten times as much as the residual soil.

"A formation of calcareous shale, which is high in lime content, near Escobol in Grant-co, puzzled farmers for years. Alfalfa and sweet clover was growing neck high and the farmers wanted to know what caused it. We found that the shale had been carried down by erosion from the hills south of the Wisconsin river a mile away."

The soil survey service is available to all farmers of Wisconsin at a small cost, Mr. Chapman said. The surveys give a laboratory check on farm problems, he said, that helps in determining the proper fertilizers, the adaptability of the soil and other questions which must be solved to properly manage the farm.

The service was established in 1910 by act of the legislature. Since that time surveys have been made of 3,300 of the 190,000 Wisconsin farms. Three hundred farms are being inspected by the chemists yearly, Mr. Chapman disclosed.

The cost is kept at a minimum through group farm surveys. The state provides $5,000 annually for the work and one-fourth of the cost is paid by the farmers.

WATCH SILKING OF CORN TO SECURE BEST CROP

Watch the silking of your corn to get the best crop, warns M. T. Meyers of Ohio State University. Early varieties, like golden bantam, reach their prime 20 days after silking, later varieties 22 days after silking.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store, adv.

YOUNG MAN SENT TO HOSPITAL BY GAS EXPLOSION

Blast Sets Fire to Clothes and Entire Body Is Scorched

Severe burns about the lower half of the body and both hands were suffered by Melvin Brockman, 19, route 6, Appleton, shortly after noon Monday when gasoline used to prime the engine of the Milgrew Sons company dredge, exploded.

Brockman was employed by the Dubuque company which is in charge of the Outagamie-co farm drainage project in the town of Freedom, and was helping a fellow employee start the dredge engine which back-fired and exploded the priming gasoline. Brockman was standing directly behind the engine and received the full force of the explosion, from the abdomen to his knees.

In attempting to beat out the flames Brockman severely burned both arms and hands. Lester Wiese and Benjamin Wendt, town of Freedom farmers, who were watching the dredge, extinguished the fire. A Kuntz ambulance took the injured man to St. Elizabeth hospital. Brockman was reported Tuesday morning to be resting well.

SENTENCE DWYER TO PRISON TERM

Alleged "King of Bootleggers" Is Given Maximum Penalty

New York—(AP)—William V. Dwyer, race track owner and head of a syndicate said to have controlled 18 steamships and smuggled $40,000,000 worth of liquor into the United States, has been found guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law and sentenced to the maximum penalty.

E. C. Cohron, garage owner and pay-off man for the syndicate, was convicted with Dwyer, while six others tried with them were acquitted. They are Arch M. Eversole, George Clyde, Walter Wiedner, James J. McCambridge, Edward Gallagher, and Wm. B. Maloney.

Federal Judge Julian W. Mack sentenced Dwyer to two years imprisonment and fined him $10,000 after his conviction Monday night. Cohron got two years and $5,000. They said they would appeal.

The specific charge against Dwyer, upon his arrest with 20 others, Dec. 3, 1925, was conspiracy to bring 4,000 cases of liquor into the United States in violation of the prohibition laws. The ring had offices in New York, bank buildings, in remarks of prosecution counsel in court, Dwyer was referred to as "the king of the bootleggers."

On Jan. 26 the grand jury indicated 61 men, including 13 members and former members of the "Prohibition Guard," three of the most important witnesses against Dwyer, was found dead in his hotel room with a bullet through his head.

Among three indictments against Dwyer on which he has not been tried, is one of felony in sending 12 men to their death in an unseaworthy vessel.

ADJOURN HEARING ON ZONE LAW VIOLATION

Suit brought by the city of Appleton against Mrs. Mary Parker, 342 W. Commercial-st., for alleged violation of the building code under a city ordinance, was adjourned for one week in municipal court Monday afternoon. The postponement was granted at the request of the city attorney, pending possible settlement out of court. Mrs. Parker pleaded not guilty to the charge of violating the ordinance, which was alleged by Walter Zschachner, city building inspector, complainant, that the rear wall of a garage built by Mrs. Parker is only three feet from a rear lot line, instead of six feet, as is required by the city building code.

DISMISS THEFT CASE AGAINST APPLETON MAN

Complaint that Henry Wiltz, Appleton, stole a water pump from an automobile of the Appleton Engine works on July 11, was dismissed Tuesday morning in municipal court, upon payment of court costs of $2.40 by Wiltz. The case was dismissed at the request of the complainant, Joseph Heimmermann.

TRADES COUNCIL MEETS FOR ROUTINE BUSINESS

TREE BRUSHES YOUNG MAN OFF TOP OF TRUCK

Youth Taken to Hospital After He Is Knocked Off Loaded Car

Joseph Chiesa, a 20-year-old miner of Vulcan, Mich., is in St. Elizabeth hospital paying dearly for a ride he took Monday on the top of a large motor van. A fractured rib and possibly a fractured skull is the extent of his injuries.

With his companion, John Bellison, 19, of Washington, D. C., he climbed to the top of a truck of the Northern Transportation Co., of Green Bay. Not far from Kimberly Chiesa was struck from the top of the van by an over-hanging branch of a tree, and was thrown to the pavement. Bellison saw the branch in time to duck but not in time to warn Chiesa. Chiesa was taken to the hospital by Mrs. Alva Carter of Appleton, who was in the vicinity in her automobile. Examination revealed a fractured rib and a slight indication of a skull fracture, but Chiesa is not showing symptoms of the latter injury. He will remain under observation in the hospital for several days.

MISS PAGE TOPS WOMEN GOLFERS

Shoots Par Score of 82 for Almost Certain Medal Honors in State Meet

Milwaukee—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Page, Maple Bluff country club, Madison, turned in par for 18 holes play at the Trippi Country club here Tuesday in the qualifying round, and there seems little question but that the little Madison girl had become the medalist of the 1926 Wisconsin Women's golf tournament.

Up to noon the closest approach to Miss Page's score was made by Frances Hadfield of Blue Mound who shot 44-45 for an 89. She was tied for second place by Mrs. G. E. Cleopha of the Zelot Country who had 41-45-89 and Miss Jane Hannan of Blue Mound who went out in 43 and came home with 46 for 89.

The remainder of the field jumped into the nineties, and into three figures, with little possibility that any of the 140 shooting in the qualifying round would approach the figures of Miss Page.

Council Defeats Langstadt Deal

partments for which it was expected there would be room. Just what departments would be housed there besides the fire and police units was never really agreed upon by members of the council. All thought that the fire and police departments would be moved to the building if it was purchased, but considerable controversy prevailed as to whether any more offices would be located there. Some aldermen maintained the water and street departments also should be established in the building, while others were of the opinion that it should serve as quarters for the fire and police departments alone.

Mayor Albert C. Rule held the former view. If the building was to house only the two departments, he threatened to veto the purchase in case of a tie. More departments would be accommodated or the city would leave the returns it should in proportion to the money involved, he told the council.

Another objection against the transaction was the belief that it would be necessary within a few years to erect one or two fire stations in outlying sections of the city. In view of this, it was deemed unbusinesslike to invest a huge sum into a central station when expansion will have to be carried out before long.

The special library committee appointed Monday night should be prepared to report before the council meets to make out the budget for next year, it was suggested. The general opinion seemed to be that plans for a new library building should be prepared with the least delay.

That the library should have a new building and the entire city hall building should be left to house city offices alone, is what the majority of aldermen appear to favor. As conditions now stand, the library has not enough room to care for all its books, and the second floor of the building is too small to adequately accommodate all the city offices.

TODAY IS LAST DAY FOR FILING PRIMARY PAPERS

Two Outagamie-co Candidates Had Not Filed Nomination Papers at Noon

Congressman George J. Schneider filed nomination papers at Madison late last week at the office of Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state, as a Republican candidate for reelection to the office of representative from the Ninth congressional district in the September primary.

Tuesday, July 27, is the last day during which papers may be filed. In Outagamie-co two papers were filed Monday afternoon at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, and one was filed on Tuesday morning.

Theodore A. Glaser, 407 N. Richmond-st., Appleton, filed his nomination papers as a Republican candidate in the primary for election to the office of county treasurer. Nomination papers were also filed Monday afternoon by Fred F. Wankey, 120 S. Outagamie-st., Appleton, as a Republican candidate for sheriff, L. M. Schindler, present county surveyor, filed nomination papers Tuesday morning to become a candidate to succeed himself.

Two candidates for county offices who took out papers had not filed them with the county clerk by noon Tuesday, but were expected to do so during the afternoon.

RUSH IN MADISON
Madison—(AP)—The secretary of state's office was rushed Tuesday by candidates for political offices seeking to get under the wire with their nomination papers to qualify for a place on the ballot at the primary election, Sept. 7. The deadline is at midnight.

While papers have been coming in steadily for many days, the final day for filing papers brought the rush, and George Brown of the elections department announced a force would be on hand until the last minute.

A large majority of the contests for party nomination for congress, and state offices will center in the Republican party. However, Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition candidates also seek endorsement.

M'KEE SOLOIST AT NEXT BAND CONCERT

UMPIRE GETS IN HOT WATER AT LIONS GAME

"Yer out!" "I'm not!" "Is your side ahead?" "No." "Runner is safe," decreed umpire Homer Bowby at the baseball game at Pierce park between the Fats and Leans of the Lions club which held its weekly meeting at the park Monday noon. The dinner was served by the ladies of First Methodist church.

The Fats, captained by "Doc" Frawley and the Leans, headed by "Bob" Connelly played 17 innings for the club championship but the umpire couldn't keep track of the score and so the championship is still undecided.

"Homer" presided at the meeting in the absence of Dr. Charles Reineck, president, and as the official head he was also made umpire of the baseball game. However, according to several of the players, their mistake was soon realized, but no one had enough authority to substitute a real umpire.

MILWAUKEE ROAD LOOTED, EKERN SAYS IN SPEECH

Candidate for Governor Says He Will Seek Law to Prevent Manipulations

Cambridge—(AP)—Attorney General Herman L. Ekmann promised in an address Monday night that if elected governor, he would seek legislation to prevent such manipulation of Wisconsin corporations, as was shown, he charged in the bankruptcy of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

The candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination went into details concerning the alleged disclosures resulting from the recent investigation which now is being reopened in New York with Daniel H. Grady representing Wisconsin as a special assistant attorney general.

Reiterating that the road was "looted" for the benefit of a group of Chicago and New York bankers, Mr. Ekmann asserted that the state of Wisconsin is "going to the bottom of this matter."

DEMANDS MONEY BACK

The attorney general promised he would force President H. E. Byram and other officials of the St. Paul road to return thousands of dollars which he declared they voted themselves to make up the difference between their regular salary and the amount received when the roads were under federal control.

"The story of the looting of the St. Paul is one of the most staggering tales of high finance, stock jobbing and watering in the history of American finances," Mr. Ekmann said.

"merciless and unprincipled financial wolves of Wall street and Chicago's LaSalle street are directly and solely responsible for its financial destruction."

"Notwithstanding what is now claimed to be the impoverished condition of the road, its management was for a continual orgy of lavish expenditures, waste and mismanagement. I was deliberately headed into a receivership."

"The receivership has loaded the railroad with an expense of $175,000 a year for the executive management by the receiver as against $75,000 a year paid by the company to President Byram before the receivership. President is still receiving his $75,000 as receiver and each of the two receivers are getting $50,000 a year."

"When the government ran the railroads it cut down Byram's $75,000 a year salary and the directors felt sorry for him after the railroad was turned back, that they appropriated to him illegally $39,000 to make up for the reduction. We are going to make him and the others who got such refunds to make repayment."

AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS BEAUTY CONTEST FOR MEN

Henry Ford's Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad is rapidly becoming flatterized. These photos show two innovations that smack of the automobile industry rather than of the railway. Above is one of the road's handcars all fixed up with a windshield; below is a picture of a couple of track repairers who use a Ford tractor, with flanged wheels, to go up and down the track.

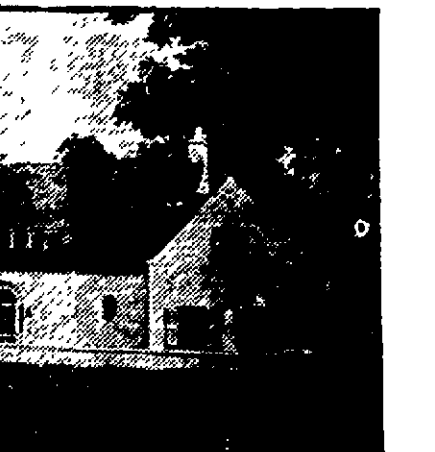

This old-world farmhouse isn't located in France, as you would expect; it's at Byron, Ill. Mrs. Medill McCormick built it for a new country home. The house was planned by the late Senator McCormick.

Fawns are supposed to be mighty timid animals, but this one lets his little girl friend feed him out of a bottle—and likes it. The picture was taken at the Des Moines (Ia.) city zoo.

Grandma Prejean of Lafayette, La., celebrated her 102d birthday by taking the train to Beaumont, Tex., seeing all the sights and getting a bob and a permanent wave. She insists, however, that the Charleston, movies and cigars will never have a place in her life.

The carrier pigeon has joined the navy. Further, he's shipping on submarines. The birds are put in sealed traps which float to the surface and open automatically, as the diagram above shows, allowing the bird to fly in with his message. The bird shown above is named J. T. Sullivan, and is one of the navy's fastest carriers. Inset shows a sailor launching a pigeon on its flight.

Miss Jaen Marre, of Chicago, who perches so gracefully on the back of this amiable elk, has reason to smile. She won the beauty contest at the Elk's convention in Chicago, has been given the title of "Miss Fidelity," and will get a tryout in the movies at Hollywood.

Sol Luft, 5 year old, of New York, twists a steel bar into a "W" like "strong men" of the stage do. steel is five feet long and a quarter inch thick. Sol himself only weighs 35 pounds, and his parents claim he has developed his strength on a strict vegetarian diet.

Elsie Peck and Reba Morgan, of Los Angeles, aren't related at all—but they're twins, or close to it. Plastic surgeons remodelled Reba's profile so she'd look like Elsie. Elsie is at the left in this picture.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN and FAY MILBURN have a home when their baby girl is born and the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer lands a new contract. Among their acquaintances are—

NOEL and VERA BOYD, whose marriage is strictly "modern."

FAT and MARIAN FORBES, who have three children and whose domestic life is unhappy because of Fat's roving tendencies.

John was fascinated on meeting NELL ORME. Pat hints he is having trouble with her husband.

Fay took JUDITH, the baby, to visit her parents in Chicago, and during her absence John "ran around" a good deal. When Fay returned, gossip had retailed some of John's actions and sharp quarrels followed, one of which drove him "out on a tear," and Fay to threaten to leave him.

John later encounters Nell Orme at Vera Boyd's—a plot of "foes," who takes delight in promoting "affairs." He goes again and again, and the day comes when he madly takes Nell in his arms.

Fay finds it out and leaves him, and John closes up the house and takes an apartment where he will come to see him one night after a quarrel with Howard, her husband. Howard comes in on him, and leaves, threatening to bring suit for divorce. The next morning John reads startling news in the paper.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

(The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER LV

Suicide! Howard Orme had committed suicide.

Howard had shot himself through the heart.

Mrs. Orme, it seemed, had gone to bed at a late hour, and Howard had been to his own room.

And then, so her version ran, hearing a shot and running to Howard's room she found him lying on the floor, his hand grasping the pistol, and beginning to drench his vest.

What a pity! What a pity! What a terrible thing for Nell! And he read half fearing he would find men of his own name.

But there was none; and yet he saw, as surely as that there would be a tomorrow, he would be dragged to it.

What till they questioned Nell as her whereabouts the night before, would all come out—the whole story. . . . What a terrible thing!

And then in the restaurant, proper the paper up before him as he wiped his scalding coffee, reading over and over, again the whole unbelievable thing.

Why had Howard done it? And then a sudden thought.

God! It couldn't be possible that—Nell had shot him. "And then he made it look like suicide."

And the headlines again: "Shoots himself as wife sleeps."

That couldn't be true. It couldn't be possible that Nell was sleeping at the time. . . . Why had Howard done it? Why? Even his threatened divorce would have been mild compared to the scandal that seemed to be in store for John now.

At his office he had a telephone call from Pat Forbes less than a minute after his arrival. Had John read it? And what was behind it?

"God knows," said John, "but I suppose the whole town will have its tongue before nightfall," and he hung up.

If the whole town didn't have its tongue before nightfall, at least the clock did. They had been after Nell for some explanation that might provide a suicide motive.

Had there been a quarrel? And Nell, although reluctant to rag John's name into it, was unable to stifle her conscience, and so she had told of her visit the night before to John's apartment, and Howard's coming in upon them.

"Where is this fellow Milburn?" asked the detective who had been conducting the questioning. And when he told him John's business address two plain clothes officers were immediately sent after him.

Well, it looked pretty doggone funny, the detective was thinking, and he glanced significantly at the coroner. Murder, maybe. This fellow Milburn had been caught in a pretty tight squeeze. Had he and Orme quarreled? Had Milburn made any threats?

Well, yes, Nell admitted. He had said he would be tempted to kill Howard if he went through with his threat to drag his name into a divorce court.

"But it's ridiculous," she added hastily, "to attach any significance to it. Howard and I went home, without a word said between us, and at one o'clock or thereabouts he went to his room."

"What time was it when you heard the shot?"

"It must have been two hours later—about three o'clock, I should judge."

"And this revolver?" The detective picked it up from the desk. "Had you seen it before?"

ner with him downtown—"I should be congratulated since they didn't charge me with murder."

And Menefee looked at him hard, a concerned expression on his face. This friend of his he was thinking, had been hit pretty hard—things were piling up against him. Better watch him. He might go to pieces.

But he said, "I had quite a long talk with Mrs. Orme, and she told me a few things. She's had quite a time of it, I'm afraid."

"Of course, I'm curious, Dick, but—"

"That's right, John." Menefee laughed. "Don't ask me to violate my ethics."

Again he was silent and fell to studying his friend. "And what are you going to do now, John?"

And John, a wry smile twisting his mouth, said nothing; but late that night as he sat in his room, the afternoon paper that dangled from his hand carrying pictures of the Ormes and the police explanation that Orme had been jealous of his wife, he began to think of the futility of trying to stay on here where every move he made got him in trouble and provided a fresh morsel of gossip for his acquaintances.

At times during the long, weary days that followed the Orme tragedy—that of self-destruction.

"Howard did it—why not I?" At such times he would shrug the thought away angrily, but it always returned during his moments of deep depression, to tempt him with its promise of surcease from heartaches and pain.

"Howard did it—why not I?"

It was so hard, to know that people laughed knowingly at mention of his name—to feel that Noel Boyd doubtless was running him down, that Henry Blodgett and his wife were exulting with evil joy. . . .

And though he did not know it, Dr. Menefee was very much worried about him. He had seen the change in John—the department of the old, carefree, boylike air. Silence now sat where his friend's merry laugh had once rung clear, and the look in John's eyes was not good to see.

John felt that he had the whole world to fight. He encountered stares and heard whispers wherever he went, and people stopped talking when he appeared. . . .

WHEN BUILDING

Why Overlook This Important Factor?

Ninety per cent of all interior decoration, and therefore the major part of all interior beauty, depends on the enduring qualities of the walls and ceilings to which they are applied. Wall cracks and blemishes are disfiguring and suggest faulty construction of the entire home—features that hinder a sale and lessen value.

No one need be satisfied with less than the very best, for the utmost in walls of enduring beauty and permanency may be secured by insisting on the use of Climax Wood Mortar. The slight additional cost it involves is really negligible. Why not specify the plaster to be used in your new home as you would the plumbing fixtures, roofing, etc.?

Most plasters require the admixture of sand—two parts of sand to one of plaster. Climax Wood Mortar doesn't belong to this class for sand is simply a filler and detracts rather than adds strength to a wall. Climax Wood Mortar is put on just as it comes to the job—all pure gypsum (rock) combined for strength and elasticity with finely divided wood fibre. It produces a wall that offers the utmost in resistance to fire, water, cracks and the disintegrating effects of time—a wall that is practically impervious to the elements that cause ordinary walls to soon become cracked, marred and unsightly.

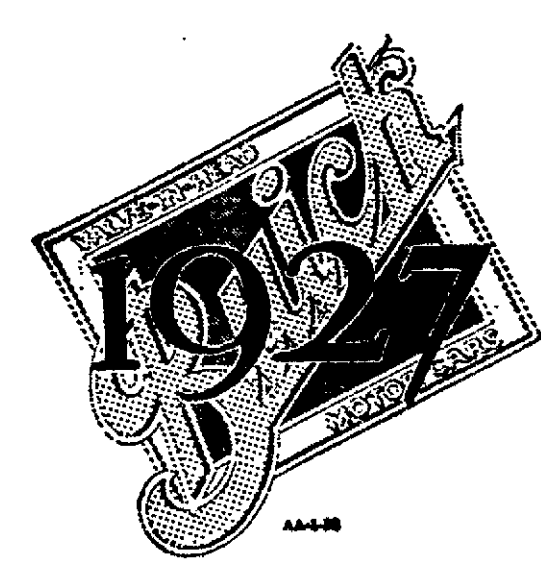

FREE: Don't plaster until you have read our booklet "Walls of Everlasting Beauty." It costs you nothing. It will pay you handsomely.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

SOME ADVICE
I started right in to do what Mamie had told me and for two or three minutes I was very busy checking hats and entirely too nervous to look about or listen to what anyone said. At last I heard someone say:

"Hello, cutie, when did you blow in? I'm sure I've never seen you here before, but I might have known you'd be here, for Ziegfeld has nothing on Sterns when it comes to picking beautiful girls."
— I tried to smile but my lips were frozen.

Then I looked at Mamie wondering. How could she have kept so sweet and full of good humor when all day she was target for the tawdry compliments that any man might see fit to give her? I was learning very rapidly that most men seem to think that with a compliment or two while showing an inclination to be a good spender, any man may make a conquest of a working girl. I found out that night that man never looks upon woman impersonally. She is never just a human being like himself. She is either his mother, his wife, his sister, a prospective romance or flirtation or the woman who does not count.

It had never occurred to me before that girls in business life had to put up with such things. Consequently I made a little sound of fear, as another would be flattered tried to touch my hand as I held it out for his hat.

Mamie came forward, saying under her breath:
"Just act as though you didn't see it. It's nothing, my dear, after you get used to it."
"Do you have much of this sort of thing to put up with?" I asked as there came a hush. I was making up my mind that it would not be as easy to get rid of these men as it had been to get rid of Chuck.

"Well, you have to stand it up to a certain point," broke in Mamie. "You can't make a man grouchy, for if you do he'll make a fuss to the management and you'll lose your job. But for your own sake you can't give him too much encouragement. You'll soon learn to have an answer ready that will make any man keep his distance without making him mad; that is, if you stay. But, I don't think you'll stick. Somehow you don't seem to fit in."

"I'm sure you don't seem to fit in," said a loud voice. "Sterns tells me, little one, that you've been playing in hard luck. Never let it be said that I neglected beauty in distress," and turning his hat over, another customer dropped a bill in it and passed it to me.

For a moment I was thunder-struck. I didn't know what to do. I looked at Mamie in distress and like the brick she was she answered my S. O. S.

SOCIETY WOMEN FLOCK TO LINGERIE SCHOOL.

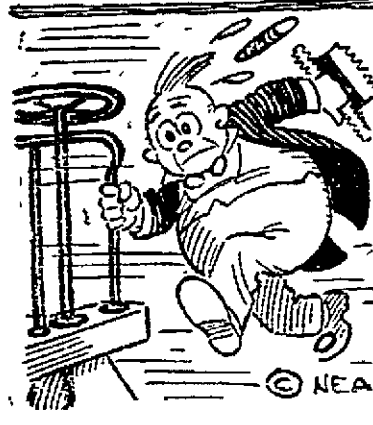

London—(P)—Society women young and old, are taking these days to the Royal School of Needlework at South Kensington where the loveliest "undies" in all England are being made. The Duchess of York is president of this school, which employs some of the finest needlewomen in England. Queen Mary and other members of the Royal Family often visit the school, and the Begum of Bhopal has bought many "necessaries" for the trousseau of her eldest grandchild, Princess Abida.

British society women buy most of their lingerie at the school.

TEST VALIDITY OF LAW AIMED AT TOURIST DRIVERS

Chicagoans Contend Summons Served by Secretary of State Is Invalid

Madison—(P)—The validity of the 1925 law whereby papers are served upon automobile owners living outside of Wisconsin through the secretary of state is under attack in the state supreme court.

A. C. Cronkhite of Chicago has filed a petition with the court, asking for a writ of prohibition against Circuit Judge P. B. Eelden of Kenosha county to prevent a damage suit being tried against him. The court has set August 10 for arguments on the petition.

The 1925 legislature enacted a law that papers in damage suits arising from the use of automobiles could be served on automobile owners who live outside of the state by the papers being filed with the secretary of state. It is the secretary of state's duty under the law to mail a copy of the papers to the defendant in the suit.

Cronkhite alleges in his petition that he was served by mail on last February 23 a summons and complaint at his residence in Chicago, in connection with an action brought by Charles and Mary Julius of Kenosha, resulting from an automobile collision on June 21, 1925.

He asked Circuit Judge Eelden to vacate and set aside the attempt to serve the summons on him, claiming that the law does not provide a valid method of service of a summons and complaint. Judge Eelden refused to grant the order and Cronkhite appealed to the supreme court. He alleges the ruling of the lower court violates the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution.

He asks for a writ of prohibition ordering the lower court to set aside the "pretended service and desist from further proceedings unless actual or lawful service" is hereafter made.

The law which is attacked in this case was enacted to give residents of Wisconsin additional opportunity to collect damages from tourists and others from outside of Wisconsin who motor within the state. Formerly, sponsors of the measure said, owners of foreign automobiles were almost immune from damage suits, due to their transient movements.

The law has been used in about fifty cases, this being the first instance of a contest, officials in the secretary of state's office said.

NINE VETERANS RETURN FOR BLUE GRID SQUAD

Prospects For Big Season Good With Plenty Of Vet Material To Build Teams

Bleier, Jessup, Hilton, Barfell, Courtney, 1925 Frosh, Expected to Be Big Aid

AWRENCCE college's hope for a successful year on the football field in 1926 will depend on nine veterans, a small group of reserves and four or five of the stars of the 1925 freshman eleven, one of the best yearling squads ever to wear the Blue and White, records of the returning athletes show. Though the opening of school still is some six or seven weeks away, plans for the season have been started and by Mark Catlin, head coach, and George "Nip" Christoph, new frosh instructor. Plans just about have to be started this early as the Blues meet one of the strongest foes on their entire card in the first game of the season with only two weeks of practice when Marquette University's star squad invades Appleton on Oct. 3. The Golden avalanche gets much earlier start with work at Lake Beau-

Prospects of a winning team are good, barring the accidents and ineptitudes which seemed to camp on the trail of the 1925 Blue squad. This crew started the season, after a championship year in 1924, potentially the best team in either the West or state conference. The blows under which the fighting squad made what might be called an even better showing than ever, winning more than half its games and giving its much stronger conquerors plenty of trouble until the final whistle blew. Every one of the men returning to tryout for the 1926 crew is scholastically eligible and has been putting in hours during the summer to keep fit for a big year. On the whole prospects are good, though not wonderful. Every conference foe of the Blues this year has practically the same team at last fall, making the Catlin crew's job harder.

But to get back to the 1926 prospects, materially speaking. Four members of the 1925 squad will not don the Catlin grid togs this year. Zussman, quarter and halfback; Boettcher, guard, end and fullback; Ashman, end, and Premo, guard, being the missing veterans. All were regulars from the start and though there is an abundance of material for the squad they will be missed.

The big ray of brightness in the situation is the quantity of good men. Enough players should put in a demand for suits when the season opens so that Catlin will have at least two good men for every job. This will make the vets work for their positions with their best efforts or take a chance on "warming" a seat on the bench. Veteran linemen returning will be Capt. Counsel, Ott, Hipke, Bayer and possibly Stark. Veteran backfielders will be Bloomer, Nason, Bries, Heideman and Nobles.

From the 1925 frosh the most promising prospects are Hilton, Bleier and Jessup and Hillman, linemen, and Courtney, Barfell and Hill, backfielders. Fellenz, reserve end of 1925, also will be in the fold.

Here's the probable lineup although early season dope often is changed when the players show their "stuff" at various jobs. The line should be one of the strongest in both conferences, backed by a good backfield. At center Bleier, star of the 1925 frosh and former bulwark of Appleton high school, probably will strut his stuff. The big lineman is at home at the job and plays a nice game both on offense and defense as well as passing the pigskin with the best.

With Bleier at the pivot position, Coach Catlin will be able to try a shift which should strengthen the Blues in one of their weak spots, end. Bop Hipke, cent for the last two years, will try out for an end job and should make a go of it. Bop is a smashing tackler, and is fast on his feet, beside being able to nab passes with the best of them. He is a bulky boy able to take the hard blows of the position. At the other end Catlin will have either Bayer, 1925 regular, or Hilton, frosh sensation last year. Either may also be seen at Hipke's job part of the time or in case the big boy is shifted back to center or used at a guard. Good ends, for

ROUNDERS WIN AGAIN IN KIMBERLY LEAGUE

Kimberly—Wrinkles Rounders leaders of the Kimberly Twilight Softball league, took their eighth victory Monday evening by defeating the Clubhouse Boosters, holders of the league cellar position, 4-3. The Rounders got their first run in the second inning, and led until the sixth when the Boosters tied the score. In the seventh the Boosters took the lead by a one run margin, only to lose it when the Rounders staged a rally in the eighth which netted them three runs. Dohr came through with two runs for the Rounders and Lang, who also crossed the plate twice, was high scorer for the Boosters. Dohr hurled for the Rounders allowed five hits, and Sandhouse, Clubhouse pitcher allowed nine. Wednesday evening Van Thulls Bakers holders of fourth place will clash with the fifth place Verhagens Hardware. Clubhouse Boosters—00001101-3. Wrinkles Rounders—01000030-4. Batteries: Boosters—Sandhouse and Gossens; Rounders—Dohr and Williams.

BREWS TAKE 13-FRAME BATTLE FROM BUCKS

Columbus—(AP)—Jack Leivelt will probably equip his ball players with searchlights, insist that the bases are marked with red flags and that Japanese lanterns are strung along the base lines before he continues his quest of the A. A. flag. Some sleepy base running and southpaw thinking forced Claude (Bubber) Jonnard to leave thirteen lard innings here Monday afternoon to beat the Bucks 5 to 4.

Mobile Ala.—(AP)—"Big Boy" Peterson, Kiln, Ala., won from Jack McRorse, Canada (ten).

a change, are plentiful this year. Aside the three mentioned above, Fellenz, 1925 reserve who looked good when given a chance last fall and who now has a year of experience, and Hillman, a consistent freshman end of 1925, are available.

Hipke played his first year of football at Lawrence two years ago, working at guard and center, so that his shift should not make much difference to the big boy. At tackles, the Blue mentor will have a pair which any coach of the midwest might envy, Capt. Counsell, all-Midwest and all-state ace for two years, will hold one berth, with another Marshfield boy, Jessup, at the other. Jessup was one of the greatest frosh tacklers ever developed at Lawrence last year. The guards will cause the most trouble, although if Stark returns they will be well provided for and Hipke can be used in reserve. One will be taken care of by Ott, sophomore reserve of last year who earned a regular berth before the season was over by his smashing play. In the carroll game in which Lawrence lost the state title in a hard-fought battle in a foot of snow, Ott starred and scored the only points made against Carroll during the season by breaking through the Pioneer line and dropping Lund for a safety.

Stark is a veteran guard and tackle, a former Appleton high star. Bloomer is the only regular quarterback left with the team, but Heideman, a half, can play the position at times last year. Courtney, frosh halfback, also tried the job on his squad in the absence of Dillett, Slavano star. At one half will be Bries, 1925 captain, with Nason, one of the Blue's big stars last year, as his running mate once more. The pair have worked the opposite positions for the last two years. Nason is a star droppicker from anywhere inside of 50 yards. At fullback will be the sensation of the 1925 frosh team, Barfell, the "Jefferson Bonecrusher". Barfell hits the line like a fast-moving steamroller and his work in backing up the front wall, stopped the variety backs short at times last fall. He is an ideal fullback.

Add to this trio Courtney, star frosh flash of last year, one of the fastest men on the team; Hill another 1925 frosh, and two veterans of three years work, Heidemann, a four-letter man, and Nobles, who was bothered by a leg all last fall, and you have the Blue rear wall hopes.

WEEK GAMES
Wednesday—Post-Crescent vs Interlakes
Friday—Bankers vs Legion

Slugging the pill hard behind excellent hurling by Ted Bleier, and fielding in great style, the Y. M. C. A. softball crew stepped into a tie for first place with the Legion Monday afternoon at Jones park by beating the Meyer Press crew, 9-2. Meanwhile another change was made in the percentage column at Interlake park, where the Bankers squeezed out a close, 11-9 triumph over the collar Interlakes in a postponed tilt to go into third place and shove the idle Post-Crescents into fourth. The two had been tied for third honors.

In the Triangle-Press game Colvin was hit hard and errors were frequent behind him, while Bleier scattered 11 hits widely, only Casperson and Bayer hitting safely more than once. Ashman, Zussman, Babecall and Voeks hit safely twice for the winners and Bender got three safeties. Babecall also got a walk.

The losers scored once in the opening and again in the ninth on a short rally in which three hits in a row netted only one run. The first score was the first of the game after the Triangles were held scoreless. In the second frame the crew garnered three and added one in the third and fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth. Fooling on bases spoiled others in the remaining frames. Meanwhile, however, though the first man up of the Press crew each frame got a hit, only a two-bagger, the men behind him were stopped short and he was forced to die on the sacks. Wenzel started with errors for the losers.

RAIN JINX HALTS KOHLE BALL GAME

Kimberly—Old Man Weather continued to pull the strings against the local baseballers, when a downpour in the second inning of the Kohler game here on Saturday washed away what looked like a real battle. Kohler got one man on base in the first inning by the four ball route, but the next sent up hit into a double play retiring the side for that inning. Kimberly loaded the bases in the first inning but failed to count any runs. The second inning was air tight ball, and things looked good for a real game until the big shower sent the crowd home in another disappointment. Of the seven games played at home this year by the Kimberly team, six of them have been played in the rain, and three have been called on account of rain before the final frames. Kohler will appear on the local diamond again before the season is over.

KIMBERLY CLUB WINS FROM WRIGHTSTOWN

Kimberly—Kimberly Holy Name Juniors has an easy time trouncing the Wrightstown Juniors by an 8-1 score Sunday afternoon at the Kimberly ball park. The Wrightstown Juniors scored their first and only run in the first inning. Kimberly scored a run in the second, two in the third, two in the fifth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth to complete the scoring for the day. Du Pont crossed the plate with three of Kimberly's runs, and Hardy came through with Wrightstown's lone tally. Scheffout, Wrightstown hurler, allowed ten hits and fanned seven. Ritten and Vander Zanden, Kimberly pitchers allowed two hits apiece, and both sent seven to the bench by the strikeout route. This was the Holy Name Juniors second win over the Wrightstown Juniors, as they defeated them at Wrightstown several weeks ago.

YANKEES OFF ON WESTERN SERIES

Must Win Half of Games to Cop Banner; Pirates Increase National Loop Lead

The Yankees, leading the American League by nine games, are making an invasion of the west that is likely to be decisive. They have 59 games to play, 40 of them on western fields. If they play .500 percent for the rest of the schedule, Cleveland must win two thirds of its remaining games to gain the pennant. Babe Ruth will have to insert a home run every two games to tie his record of 59 circuit blows recorded in 1921. Much of the Yankees' good showing is due to Mark Koenig who is playing his first season in the big show. His errors have cost several games, yet without him the Yankees could not win consistently.

During a team slump Manager Huggins removed Koenig and for several games worked changes in his infield without success. The lead which had been ten games soon dropped to six and something had to be done, so Koenig, called the weak link by many critics, went back to his post. Immediately there came a change. The spirit of the team picked up tremendously. They were fighting again and Ruth's big bat swung into its accustomed smashing way. Now they are back almost to where the slump

P-C SQUAD REBUILT; STERNARD, MANAGER

The Post-Crescent softball squad, champion of the city Twilight uoop last year, is being rebuilt to finish strongly in the 1926 loop competition after a bad slump in which it slid from first place to a tie for third by losing three out of four games. Eddie Sternard, 1924 manager, again has taken over the leadership of the crew and has already signed two players both hard hitters, to strengthen the batting power of the squad, its weak point this year. The team fields well but is unable to bat in the pinches. Both of the new sluggers are outfielders. Another new hurler, a speedball man, has been signed for the game with the loopeading legion squad on Aug. 4, and the P-C crew is being pointed for this tilt as it is the last clash of the season between the squads, and Eddie would like nothing better than to trounce his old teammates of 1925. He also has a line on another heavy-hitting outfielder. The batting order of the squad will receive a decided shakeup in its tilt with the Interlakes Wednesday night and if it is successful it will remain that way the remainder of the year. Eddie does not hope to win a pennant any longer, but says that by consistent winning from now on his team will be up among the leaders when the season closes.

started with only about a third of the schedule to play. The Pittsburgh Pirates gained a few points on the National field by beating Brooklyn Monday, 3 to 2, all other teams in the circuit being idle. Dazzy Vance was the victim but looked like a winner in the ninth when his mates sent one run across and had two others on the bases. Kiki Cuyler twice saved the game for the Pirates with running catches. In the only American League contest Philadelphia turned back Boston 5 to 0. Eddie Rommel allowed only four hits. Two runs scored on Jim Poole's home run smash in the eighth.

Appleton Golfers Have Four Days To Work For P-C Prizes

With the Northeastern Wisconsin golf tourney out of the way and only four days left in which to work for the Post-Crescent handicap prizes for the month of July, linksmen of the Butte des Morts and Riverview clubs started play in earnest this week. Three scores must be turned in during the month to be in the running for the prizes and many had at least two more to shoot but were planning to get these in during the week. The man who lowers his handicap the largest percentage by Aug. 1 from July 1 receives first prize or his choice of any wood club he may desire. The player who is next in line in either club with lowering his month's handicap will receive a dozen 60 cent golf balls. However, all players must get the three scores in so club officials can determine their status and all must conform to tourney and club rules while doing it. Awards will be made for August and September also to the men who succeed in lowering their handicaps over the preceding month.

Since the first month of play, June, the lowering of the handicaps will be much more difficult than before. It was not so hard to lower the marks the first month, but now most of the men are down to a low basis where they will find further lowering hard. Some of the men who failed to lower their handicaps in June or just lowered them a few points probably will win the July meet, as they have a better chance if they play a few good games during the month. This gives every golfer a chance whether he was in the prize-winning class last month or not. Frederick Rector, a Riverview junior, won first prize in June with a 42.1 percent lowering of his handicap, and Heber Pelkey, crowned flight B champion of the N. E. W. G. A. last week, took second with a 36.7 change.

WOMEN GOLFERS START STATE MEET ON TUESDAY

Milwaukee—(AP)—The best of the Wisconsin women golfers will test their wood and iron game Tuesday in eighteen holes of qualifying play at Tripoli country club, the sixteen low scorers to meet in the elimination play later in the week. The first pair got away at 8 o'clock and at five minute intervals seventy pairs will be sent away. Officials are of the opinion that evening shadows will be long before the last of the qualifying round players turn in their cards. Dorothy Page, Maple Bluff youngster, is taking the eye of the spectators on the strength of her play in Monday's team match in which Maple Bluff, Madison, won the Blue Mound trophy with 44. Kenosha country club and Michiwaukee were tied for second, Racine country club third, Ozaunee fourth, Tripoli fifth, Blue Mound sixth and Black Hawk, Madison last. Miss Page turned in a card of 84, better over women's par for the course. Her play went a long way toward winning the team match. Frances Hadfield, of Blue Mound, looked upon as the most serious rival for Miss Page did not play in Monday's match being ineligible because of having played on a winning team the previous year.

What a "drag" will do

A DRAG on your jimmy-pipe, loaded to the guards with Prince Albert, will give you an entirely new idea of how good a pipe can taste when you put it on the proper diet. It will revise all your notions about the grand old pastime of pipe-smoking. Make the test!

This very day, get yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. and tuck a load into the business end of your pipe. Light up and pull that wonderful smoke up the stem. Notice how cool it tastes, whether you feed it fast or slow. Notice how sweet and mellow it is. Good old P. A.!

When you open the tin, the aroma that greets you is richly fragrant . . . the breath of real, honest-to-goodness tobacco. An aromatic promise of the smoke-pleasure to come. You'll never forget that taste when you light up. Nothing else is like it anywhere.

No matter how satisfied you think you are, give P. A. a whirl in your jimmy-pipe. Millions of smoke-happy men will tell you that P. A. will give you more pleasure to the cubic inch than any tobacco you ever smoked. There's a P. A. sunshine-shop just across the way!

ROGER WETHERED—HOW "HALF AND HALF" IS PLAYED
The "half-and-half" shot comes into action when the ball has found a cuppy lie. Nothing but marvelous ingenuity will enable the player to insert the blade of the club beneath the ball cleanly without removing a little of the soil behind the ball during the process, in which case much back spin cannot be imparted. When a mashie is used for this stroke it is unwise to pitch the ball on to the green. A risk must sometimes be taken, and the ball must be pitched short of the green, and allowed to run on of its own accord. In effect, the shot will be a quarter-iron stroke played with a mashie. The left hand will grip hard, and the ball will have to be driven out by the stretch of the left arm. Any attempt to nip it out of its bad lie with the right hand will result, more often than not, in disaster or loss of direction. The face of the club in the up swing must not turn as in the case of the pitch shot. The swing should resemble more of a careful cricket stroke. The flight will be lower, and the check spin will be neutralized to some extent. The ball will not run in the free manner of a running stroke.

Home Economics

In every real home-no matter how small or how large it is-there's bound to be some lively figuring where the family's money is going.

Every good housewife has her monthly budget down to a pretty fine point. When she goes about that, she wants to know the reason. And when she stays under it, she's even more interested.

Economy is simply a matter of setting your money's worth whenever and on whatever you spend it. And for people who are concerned with these things, there's no better all-around market place than the A-B-C Classified Section.

Whether you happen to be interested today in things to eat, like fresh eggs-or things to sit in, like automobiles or rocking chairs-or things to live in, like houses-

You'll find offers in these scores of classifications that will mean true economy for you.

HOPE TO STAGE BIG SCRAP IN NEW YORK

New York—(AP)—Tex Rickard and his heavyweight title fight have been invited to return to New York with every prospect that the bout will take place at the Yankee Stadium September 16.

George Brower, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission of last year, who has stood by the present head of the board, James A. Farley, in the argument that Harry Wills, Negro, should have the first chance at Dempsey's crown, invited Rickard to return. And, Tex balked, at least temporarily, in his efforts to stage the event in Chicago, accepted immediately.

Brower's invitation apparently means that Rickard will receive a 2 to 1 vote of approval when he again places the question of a Dempsey-Gene Tunney bout before the commission for commissioner William Muldoon has voted for the contest every time it has been mentioned and last week his suggestion that the matter be reconsidered was tabled.

It is possible that Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, had some inkling of what was to happen for he has delayed his long predicted departure for Chicago to discuss a Dempsey-Wills contest with promoters who claim to hold both men under contract.

Dick Evans, Philadelphia won from Rock Smith, Battle Creek (Ten).

Tramp Straw Hat Upsets Jones' Closest Rival In Critical Moment Of Meet

Joe Turnesa, Who Lost Title by Stroke, Will Always Hate Straw Lids

BY BILLY EVANS
 Joe Turnesa, who lost the national open title to Bobby Jones by one stroke, will always hate straw hats.

Freak happenings often decide big sporting events. Joe can blame a tramp straw hat for the loss of the title and incidentally about $75,000.

Now for the tale of the costly straw hat. As Joe set himself to play a brassie shot to the home green, the straw hat of a spectator standing close by, blew off and dropped near to Turnesa with a dull thud. With-out a doubt it upset him for he topped the shot and took an undeserved five.

When Jones began the last nine holes in the national open, it was apparent that a 35 would just about win, while a 37 would practically put the rest of the field out of the running.

It didn't seem too much to ask of a 38 of Turnesa, who had been playing brilliantly throughout.

In his first round he had a 72 for 15 holes, took 35 to go out and the same number of strokes to come in. The second round he got 35 and 37 for another 72.

As he started his final round he looked as the logical winner. Going out in 37 he looked to have the title in his grasp. If he could come back in the same number of strokes it would be a cinch.

He took 40 while Bobby Jones rose to great heights, turned in a 35 and beat Turnesa one stroke.

Take nothing for granted has long been a popular belief in baseball. That certainly goes for golf as well.

One need only consider the case of Macdonald Smith for ample proof. A favorite with Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen for the title, the best he could do was a tie for ninth with a score of 301.

Smith practically put himself out of the running in the first round when he took 39, 43 for an 82, hardly the Mac Smith standard of golf.

Bill Mehlhorn's fall from grace after a great start was also another tournament surprise. Getting a 65 and a 75 for his first two rounds, Mehlhorn stood out as the one best bet. It looked like a sure thing.

Then things started to break badly. Dropping a stroke here and there he was four away from Jones at the finish.

Smith's erratic 82 for his first round in the national open was the biggest upset of the tournament. It proved too great a handicap to overcome.

Always noted for his consistency, the fact that Smith would be forced to take a 43 for nine holes, was most unexpected.

Looking over Smith's 1925 record I find that he was the most consistent performer in the game over a long route. He played 52 holes in 938 strokes.

He established this record in the north and south open, western open, U. S. open, qualifying at Lido and the Long Island open.

The score by rounds was 68-70-70-73-70-70-71-69-71-70-68-73. He had an average of 3.9 strokes per hole, 25 strokes under par.

Yet, in the golf classic of 1926, Smith required an 82 for his first round that really put him out of the running.

DEMPSEY BOUT WILL BE HELD IN NEW YORK

Chicago—(AP)—A Dempsey-Tunney world's championship bout is planned by Tex Rickard for the Yankee stadium in New York on Sept. 16.

The fight, Rickard believes, will pack the stadium with 80,000 boxing fans.

William F. Carey, vice president of the Madison Square Garden corporation, will go before the New York State Athletic commission Tuesday to ask approval of the bout, Rickard said.

The decision to stage Gene Tunney's long sought opportunity to meet Jack Dempsey, the champion, was disclosed by Rickard Tuesday as he was preparing to leave Chicago after a hectic week.

The selection of Thursday, Sept. 16, as the fight date was chosen with consideration of the availability of the Yankee stadium and the effect of possible bad weather.

Dempsey, the champion, will train for the fight at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Eugene Normie, representing the champion, declared.

Tunney is expected to train on the Atlantic coast.

Philadelphia—(AP)—It became known here Tuesday that a divorce was granted July 6 by the Philadelphia courts to Virginia Blair Thornton from Sir Henry E. Thornton, president of the Canadian National railways.

The grounds for the divorce are declared to have been indignities and continuous incompatibility of temper.

The suit was entered in common pleas court here last December. The decree reached Canada this week and information of the divorce was made known here through Canadian sources.

Lady Thornton at present is said to be traveling with her daughter in the Fiji Islands. Sir Henry is in Montreal.

CATHOLICS SAY MASSES OVER MEXICAN TROUBLE

Mexico City, Mex.—(AP)—Masses are being said half hourly in the Catholic cathedral here and in churches throughout the country. Thousands of persons kneel in prayer in the cathedral daily and many children are being confirmed and baptized.

These devotions are in anticipation of the cessation next Saturday of all Catholic services in the country in which priests participate. The discontinuance has been ordered by the hierarchy in protest against "the government's religious regulations which go into effect at midnight Saturday."

TWO CIRCUS PERFORMERS HURT IN 35-FOOT FALL

Milwaukee—Ringling Brothers-Bar-num & Bailey circus arrived in Milwaukee Monday without two of the star aerial performers.

The performers, Frank Cromwell and his wife, Maud, are near death in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, from internal injuries and bone fractures suffered Sunday night when a hook snapped while they were swinging on a trapeze 35 feet up under the "big top."

Twelve thousand spectators saw the couple drop after Cromwell had made vain effort to grasp Mrs. Cromwell who slipped from her perch on the slender trapeze bar as the hook broke. Cromwell had a grip on a rope and reached his other hand to save his wife. His hold on the rope loosened and he fell after Mrs. Cromwell.

Circus officials were unable to explain just how the accident occurred. They acted on apparatus is thoroughly tested before being put in use at each performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell have been partners in circus life for 20 years.

GRAIN RIPENS AND WAITS FOR HARVEST SONG

Wheat Already Turning Golden Color in Southwest Indicates Bumper Crop

Kansas City—(AP)—As far as the eye can see, then added leagues beyond, fields of green, growing wheat ripple gently in the breeze as it plays over the great prairies of the Southwest.

A tinge of yellow is becoming noticeable in favored spots in fields here and yon. The golden glow of harvest is impending. Soon it will burst o'er all the land and from break of dawn to fading day the song of the harvest will be heard.

On the Texas plains and in Oklahoma the throb of harvest time already is being felt. Then, as the wheat ripens farther north, the crews will push on into Kansas, where wheat will be ready for the mower the last week in June. This premier winter wheat state will be in the throes of harvest at its full by middle July.

In these three states about 16,322,000 acres of wheat will be harvested, according to government crop experts. This exceeds the combined acreage of the other leading winter wheat states. In Kansas alone 10,688,000 acres will be harvested, with 4,500,000 in Oklahoma and 1,744,000 in Texas. The latest official production forecast for this vast territory was 221,000,000 bushels, nearly half the estimated production of winter wheat for the entire country.

Kansas is expected to produce 142,000,000 bushels this year, compared with 74,750,000 in 1925 and 111,705,000 bushels, the 10-year average. This prospective yield, however, has been exceeded in 1914, 1919, 1920 and 1924.

For weeks the railroads have been collecting cars on unused sidings preparatory to moving the wheat crop from farm to mill and from mill to market. It is estimated that 200,000 cars will be needed in Kansas alone for the crop movement. Additional thousands, will be needed in Texas and Oklahoma.

The influx of harvest hands, as certain as the harvest, is on. Kansas will need 40,000 men from outside the state, labor authorities estimate. Very little outside help, if any, will be needed in Texas and Oklahoma.

Harvest machinery has been augmented by much new machinery. Huge "combers" that cut and thresh at a single operation, are used on the great grain farms where thousands of acres must be harvested.

"Out Our Way" Artist Shows How Journalists Can Ride

When Miller Brothers were assembling this spring the 101 Ranch Real Wild West and Great Far East, which will be seen in Appleton, on Thursday, Aug. 3, they were after every feature in America, Europe and the Orient. The biggest show of its kind ever assembled had to have everything.

That's why they imported the famous Russian Cossack circus from the London Olympic-Imperial Cossack band, mounted choir, squadrons of the world's most daring and sensational horsemen and all. Jim Williams, the noted cartoonist who does "Out Our Way" for the Appleton Post-Crescent, came on for the opening rehearsals at the ranch. Jim was a cowboy once, so Col. J. C. Miller persuaded him to show the Russians a little of the versatility of an American newspaperman. The Cossacks marveled. "What a task journalism in America must be!" they exclaimed.

The demand for "professional partners" who do not look as if they were "professional", is so keen on the Riviera that London lounge loafers have nearly all gone south. The rumors that Nice and Cannes are filled with elderly women who will pay presentable escorts five pounds a night and all expenses caused an exodus from London cafes.

Natural Iodine In Deep Sea Water

Natural Iodine—the right kind of Iodine, comes from the sea and there is just enough of it in Ocean-O, the deep sea water blood treatment for those who have simple goitre or thyroid gland trouble.

Besides Iodine there are many other natural mineral elements in Ocean-O that are easily absorbed into the blood and carry their rich up-building atoms to every organ, gland and tissue in the body, putting new vigor into the human organism and creating abundant strength and vitality in those who are weak, run down, nervous and depressed.

Ocean-O is highly concentrated deep sea water distilled and filtered and the excess common salt removed and as one teaspoonful in a glass of water constitutes a dose a 10-ounce bottle which you can get from Voigt's Drug Store or any pharmacist anywhere lasts a long time.

Any physician will tell you that deep sea water has in it every mineral element that is found in pure, healthy blood and that is why Ocean-O is so much in demand by the people whose blood needs it's alkalinizing influence and especially by those who have eczema or obstinate skin eruptions and rheumatism due to acidity of the blood.
